CALLS STRIKE IN NEW YORK

President Donnelly Takes Action Following Failure to Coerce Packers.

MEN ARE WEAKENING

OVERTURES ARE REJECTED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Chicago, July 29.—Unable to arrange a conference with representatives of the New York packers, Michael J. Donnelly, president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America, has ordered a strike of all the members of his organization employed in New York by Schwarzschild & Sulzberger and the United Dressed Beef Company. The order, which was telegraphed to New York tonight, does not go into effect until Sunday, as the men in the eastern packing plants do not report for work on Saturday.

The decision to extend the strike to the east was not taken until after Mr. Donnelly and his associates had spent the day in a fruitless effort to arrange a meeting with representatives of the eastern packers, who came to Chicago last night to acquaint themselves with the situation here. The general belief was that the New York packers had come west to make terms with the butchers, but if such was the case they changed their minds after investigating the progress that had been made here in working the plants with non-union employes. Late this afternoon, when Homer D. Call, secretary of the National Organization of Butcher Workmen, made a final appeal over the telephone to the representatives of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger for a meeting between the members of that firm and the officers of the union, he was told that the eastern packers had nothing to offer the men should such a meeting be arranged, and that the conference would only be a waste of time. When this announcement of the eastern packers had been communicated to Mr. Donnelly, he decided on the strike order.

Packers Reject Concession.

That the probabilities of a settlement by the opposing interests in Chicago are as remote as ever was plainly demonstrated today, when Henry C. Wallace of Des Moines, Ia., and A. L. Ames of Burlington, Ia., called on the different packers with a proposition from the strike leaders offering to concede the most important point in the controversy if the employers would agree to renew peace negotiations. Mr. Wallace and Mr. Ames were told by the packers that there was no possible chance for any further conciliatory move, that the packers were now in a position where they could ignore the labor unions, and that they proposed to do so. The packers' answer was delivered to the strike leaders, and the men from Iowa left for home tonight.

From a statement made by President Donnelly tonight it would appear that the men are becoming anxious to get back to work.

"We shall be glad to confer with representatives of the packers at any time," said Mr. Donnelly. "While I cannot say that our position is in any way changed, we are not anxious to keep up a running fight and shall be glad if a settlement can be effected."

Men Broke Their Word.

A meeting of the allied trades was held today to consider the question of a renewal of the strike of the live stock handlers. These men quit several days ago, but returned to work at the instigation of the independent packers, who were unable to obtain live stock enough to carry on their business with these men on strike. The men went back to work with the understanding that only animals intended for the independent packers were to be handled.

A few hours after the men returned to work, however, they were handling live stock indiscriminately. No decision was reached at today's meeting, except to ap-

RUSSIANS LOST AT LEAST 2,000

So Japanese General Oku Says Concerning Fight at Ta-Tche-Kiao.

MEN ARE DOWNCAST

Are Said to Be Losing Heart Over Continual Orders to Retreat.

DOUBT PORT ARTHUR RUMOR

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

Niuchwang, July 29.—Heavy firing was heard outside of Niuchwang until 2 o'clock this afternoon. M. Grosse, the Russian administrator of Niuchwang, has gone to Pekin.

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, Korea, July 28.—(Delayed in transmission.)—There is great jubilation in this army over the Japanese victory at Ta-Tche-Kiao. Gen. Kuroki's army has been so long stationary that the officers and soldiers are anxious to advance and make the campaign short and aggressive.

The Russians have again begun intrenching themselves in new positions in front of Motien Pass.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Japanese minister has received the following cablegram from the foreign office at Tokyo, dated today:

"Gen. Oku reports further that according to the statements of Russian officers captured during the recent battle, Gen. Kuropatkin was present on the field, and that Gens. Sakaloff and Kondranovitch were wounded. Also that the Russian casualties were about 2,000. The Japanese casualties were about 1,000.

Russian Troops Are Blue.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 29.—Since the Russian retreat from Ta-Tche-Kiao and the taking of Niuchwang by the Japanese the feeling here has grown suddenly more pessimistic. With the Japanese able to get around Gen. Kuropatkin's right from Niuchwang with their forces pressing in upon Hai Cheng from the east, and a Japanese column threatening the Russian communications above Liao Yang, the withdrawal of the entire Russian army northward may be absolutely necessary. In this connection the orders issued to the foreign war correspondents to go to Harbin, as announced yesterday, as well as the fact that Viceroy Alexieff is going there, indicates that Gen. Kuropatkin may already have decided that his present position is untenable.

The temper of the soldiers at the front over these continued retrograde movements is shown by the statements of two Russian correspondents with Gen. Herschelmann, who report in identical language that "the soldiers are tired of retreating," and the statement of another Russian correspondent who says "our men retired from Ta-Tche-Kiao with heavy hearts." Still another correspondent says: "We are all wonder-struck at the strategy and genius of Gen. Kuroki. Everything he plans is executed with clock-work regularity, although he has no railroad, but must march his men over mountain roads."

Perhaps the rain which again seems to have begun this time in earnest may save Gen. Kuropatkin's position.

Another Port Arthur Fall.

LONDON, July 29.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Wei-Hai-Wei, dated today, says:

"It is supposed here that Port Arthur has been captured, as the British fleet will return here tomorrow."

The only basis for the report known here is that when Russia no longer occupies Port Arthur the British, by the treaty, will evacuate Wei-Hai-Wei. The inference is that the British fleet is returning to Wei-Hai-Wei to remove the stores from that place.

Not much credence is attached for the moment to the Wei-Hai-Wei report, though similar rumors are flooding the continent.

More Tales from Chefoo.

CHEFOO, July 29.—A junk containing 30 refugees from Port Arthur, who are all foreigners of the better class, arrived here tonight, having left Port Arthur on

FIXED DATE FOR BRIDGE HEARING

War Department to Reconsider the Pittsburgh Case on August 4.

EFFORT TO PREVENT RAISING

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.

August 4 has been fixed as the date when Secretary of War Taft will give a hearing to those who desire to have a reconsideration of the order or raising the Union bridge at Pittsburgh. Secretary Taft is now at Murray lake, Canada, and today he wired Gen. McKenzie, chief of engineers, fixing the date.

The war department several months ago ordered that the Union bridge must be raised and fixed July 26 as the date when the work should be completed. Early in July, however, Secretary Taft extended the time for the completion of the work to August 10 in order to give a hearing to those who wished to have the whole question reopened. After hearing the arguments the secretary decided to give a rehearing of the entire question and Capt. W. L. Sibert has been instructed to notify all the parties in interest.

There seemed to be no hope for securing a reversal of the department's order until Secretary Root, early this year, rendered a decision to the effect that the Sixth street bridge and those above it need not be raised. The rivermen had made a hard fight to get these structures elevated to approximately the same height as the Union bridge had been ordered to. When Secretary Root's decision was made public the Union Bridge Company began efforts to have the orders for the elevation of its bridge rescinded.

SISTERS GO FREE; JAHN IS IN JAIL

Commonwealth's Star Witness Besieged by Officers at His Home in Hoboken.

DAMAGE SUITS AGAINST HIM

Mrs. Evaline M. Schopfer and her sister, Aurora Cupps, were acquitted yesterday of the murder of Charles T. Schopfer, husband of one and brother-in-law of the other woman. J. Henry Jahn, who made the charge of murder against the women and was the star witness for the commonwealth, is in jail.

As soon as the women were released they entered suits against Jahn for $20,000 damages for defamation of character and the annoyance they had been put to by the charge of murder. Judge Evans fixed the bail in the damage suits at $3,000 each, or $6,000 in all, and issued a capias for the arrest of Jahn.

Deputy Sheriffs William Davis and George Gilbert went to Jahn's home at Hoboken shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. When they rang the bell they received no answer. Davis walked across the road, as if to leave, while Gilbert remained on the porch. Jahn, not knowing that there were two officers, showed himself at a window and was seen by Gilbert. Gilbert called Davis back, and the two officers tried to persuade Jahn to surrender. This he refused to do for an hour and a half, until they told him they would guard the house all night, and in the morning would secure an order of court that would permit them to enter the house by force. Then he yielded and was locked up in jail shortly after 10 o'clock. As the cell door was closed upon him Jahn exclaimed:

"Will my troubles never end?"

Verdict Was Easily Reached.

The jury in the murder case was expected in Thursday night, but it was so late retiring and some members fearing they might have trouble getting hotel accommodations, several living out of town, it was decided to review the testimony in the morning. The first morning ballot resulted in 12 for acquittal and the verdict was rendered as soon as court convened.

The two women were immediately surrounded by their friends, and it required the utmost efforts of the court officials to restrain a demonstration. They expressed great relief, but said they at no time could conceive any other verdict, as they were absolutely innocent of any connection with Schopfer's death.

Mrs. Schopfer said she loved her husband dearly and the part that worried her most was the fact that she should have ever been put in such a position. The two women left the court house, proceeded to their attorney's office and almost immediately entered two suits against Jahn for $20,000 each.

The women set forth in their statements that Jahn wrongfully and maliciously conspired to injure their characters by swearing falsely that they were responsible for the death of Schopfer. They claim Jahn also lied when he told before the coroner that Miss Cupps confessed to murder. They allege they are not guilty of the crime, as the verdict rendered shows, and that there was no time when there was any reasonable grounds of suspicion against them.

Jahn's Conscience Clear.

J. Henry Jahn was present when the verdict was announced. He said he was satisfied, as his conscience was clear that he had performed his duty. The indictment against Jahn as an accessory

SEIZES PROPERTY OF AMERICANS

Venezuela Forcibly Places Plant of Asphalt Company in Receiver's Hands.

DISPLEASURE IN WASHINGTON

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PORT OF SPAIN, TRINIDAD, July 29.—Ambrose Howard Carner, the former managing director of the New York & Bermudez Asphalt Company, who was recently appointed receiver of the company as a result of the suit brought by President Castro, accompanied by Attorney General Iribarren, arrived at Guanaco yesterday on the Venezuelan gunboat Bolivar and, backed by Venezuelan soldiers, took possession of the properties of the company, including the asphalt lake, against the energetic protests of Capt. Cooley, the company's representative. The steamer Viking, belonging to the company, escaped seizure and reached this port with the news of the government's drastic action.

Foreign companies residing in Venezuela are alarmed over President Castro's aggressive policy, which is directed also against French, British and German companies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—The action of the Venezuelan government in seizing the properties of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company has caused an unpleasant impression in government circles. Officials are unable to understand the reason for what appears to be such an arbitrary procedure, as the supreme court of Venezuela heretofore has upheld the claims of the company. Following notice of the action of the Venezuelan government a few years ago in securing an attachment against the company with a view, it was understood, of obtaining damages because of aid alleged to have been given to the revolutionists, United States Minister Herbert W. Bowen was instructed to make a full and complete report on the matter to the state department. On this will depend America's action.

ARABIA IS IN PRIZE COURT

DEFENDS HIS ACTION

In Blunt Terms He Asserts His Authority for Sinking Contraband Ships.

RUSSIA'S TURN TO PROTEST

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

St. Petersburg, July 29.—A brief report was received by the emperor today from Vice Admiral Skrydloff, announcing the arrival of the German steamer Arabia, captured by the Russian cruiser Gromoboi, July 22, at Vladivostok; repeating almost verbatim the statements made in a dispatch from Vladivostok today, referring to the capture of that vessel, and adding:

"The presence on the Arabia of cargo declared by the imperial government to constitute contraband compelled Admiral Jessen to send the vessel to Vladivostok, as being the nearest Russian port, in order that the matter might be examined by the local prize court."

PORTLAND, ORE., July 29.—The Portland and Asiatic company's steamer Aragonia, which sailed from this port for the orient yesterday carrying an assorted cargo of flour, railroad materials and tobacco, is detained in Astoria, pending further instructions from her charterers. It is understood in shipping circles that the Aragonia will not follow the usual route of steamers sailing from northwest ports for the far east, but that her course will be so corrected as to minimize the possibility of capture by Russian war vessels. The Aragonia carries a cargo similar to that carried by the seized Arabia, and is largely consigned in like manner. The time of the Aragonia's departure from Astoria may depend upon the action of the Russian authorities with regard to the release of the Arabia.

The railway material on the Arabia was consigned to a Japanese firm, and is supposed to be intended for the use of a road connecting Yokohama and Kobe.

Mongolia Sails for Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The Pacific Mail steamship Mongolia sailed today for China and Japan via Honolulu and Midway Island. She carries about 6,000 tons of general freight, consisting mainly of flour, sugar, canned meats, leather, freight cars, lead, cotton, lumber and iron, together with a large number of sealed packages supposed to contain machinery. The lead is consigned to business firms in Kobe and Yokohama. The cargo is valued at nearly $2,000,000.

The Mongolia's shipping list is a full one. She carries 175 in her cabin, 15 in the steerage and 250 in the Asiatic steerage, 200 Chinese and 50 Japanese. She is under the command of Capt. W. P. S. Porter.

If the Vladivostok squadron has not left the eastern coast of Japan when the big liner arrives at Honolulu on August 4, she will be held there. She will also stop for orders at Midway Island.

The steamer Gaelic, of the Occidental and Oriental line is still held at Midway Island, where she has been for three days.

Skrydloff Inspires Statement.

VLADIVOSTOK, July 29.—Naval men here cannot understand why the British and American papers should be questioning the legality of the actions of the Vladivostok squadron in the Pacific. The Russian cruisers, it is asserted, are acting under the rules formulated in regard to prizes, and imperially confirmed March 27, 1895. They were then published for the information of all the powers, and for nine years neither Great Britain nor any other power has protested. Paragraph 21 of these rules reads:

"In extreme cases where the retention of ships is impossible, owing to their bad condition; when they are of small value, or in danger of recapture by the enemy; when at a great distance from a home port, or when there is danger for the ship which has taken the prize, the commander, upon his personal responsibility, may burn or sink the captured vessel after having previously taken off her crew, and as far as possible her cargo. Her documents must be preserved, and even witnesses can be held for the purposes of giving testimony before the prize court."

The destruction of the British steamer Knight Commander is held to have been justifiable under the above rule. It is further claimed that the British government, instead of complaining, should take steps to compel her shipowners to desist from carrying contraband, in accordance with King Edward's neutrality proclamation in which he said, "I give notice that all our subjects who transgress will do so at their own peril and risk and will under no circumstances receive our protection."

The statement of the Associated Press' Vladivostok correspondent, giving the Russian view of the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander gives for

CABINET TOOK UP THE STRIKE

President Much Interested in the Labor Trouble at Chicago.

HEARS HIS ADVISORS

Attorney General Moody Collects Decisions as a Guide to the Government.

DISCUSSION OF POLITICS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.

Consideration of political conditions in several states, a discussion with his cabinet advisers regarding the beef strike and attendance at a meeting of the cabinet made the first day of President Roosevelt's return from Oyster Bay a busy one. While the president is much interested in the Chicago strike, both as a candidate for office and as a public official with the interests of the people at heart, yet, according to reliable information, he has not decided to take any hand in the affair unless future developments warrant it.

This afternoon Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, called at the White House by appointment. A few minutes later Victor Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor, arrived and was ushered into the president's office. He was soon followed by Attorney General Moody, who carried a formidable bundle of documents in his hands and joined his colleagues and the president.

The discussion of the strike and the beef trust occupied some time and the situation was canvassed very thoroughly. Secretary Metcalf submitted the evidence gathered by the agents of his department showing that the beef trust was disregarding the injunction of the United States court.

Guide to the Administration.

Attorney General Moody has recently collected a large number of decisions and precedents on the subject of injunctions as a guide to the administration if it should begin action against the packers. These were submitted at the conference. Secretary Morton was brought into the conference because of his knowledge of the situation in Chicago and of the packing business. He was able to contribute some general information and some excellent advice.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was learned that no decision was reached as to a course of action, but that the president will be guided by developments. The cabinet officials who have been working on the beef trust case will continue to gather evidence and prepare for litigation if it should be decided upon. Tomorrow Senators Cullom and Hopkins of Illinois will meet the president and discuss with him in detail the Chicago strike in its political aspects.

From three states that are of especial importance in this campaign, the most encouraging reports were brought to President Roosevelt today. They are West Virginia, Illinois and Vermont, all of them Republican states and likely to remain so. Representative B. B. Dovener of West Virginia called at the White House this afternoon to assure the president that the talk indulged in by the Democrats to the effect that his state would get over into the Democratic column this fall was groundless.

West Virginia Republican.

He assured the president that the majority of the people of West Virginia were Republicans from principle and that the fact that a prominent citizen of the state had been nominated for vice president on the Democratic ticket would make no difference to them. President Roosevelt was pleased to hear the report of Capt. Dovener and expressed interest in the situation in that state.

"I told the president that this talk of West Virginia going Democratic was all heard outside of the state," said Capt. Dovener when he emerged from the president's office, "and that none of it was heard in the state. We are going to keep West Virginia in line, and the fact that Mr. Davis is on the Democratic ticket will not be sufficient to change the result."

Senators Cullom and Hopkins of Illinois called by appointment to discuss Illinois politics with the president. They were interrupted by several members of the cabinet who wished to transact some important business and made an engagement to call tomorrow and talk over the situation in detail. Both of them told the president, however, that they did not believe the beef strike would have a damaging effect upon the Republican ticket. They were of the opinion that the strike is about over and they do not think it has endangered Republican success in that state. As to factionalism, they say there is nothing to fear from that source in Illinois. The Yates and other factions that fought so hard in the state convention have become reconciled to the outcome of the contest and apparently all will work and vote for the ticket this fall.

Vermont the Barometer.

Vermont is of particular importance in this campaign only as a barometer. It is a Republican state and there is no danger whatever of Roosevelt losing it. But the state election there is held two months ahead of the general election and it is a superstitution very generally accepted that a plurality of 25,000 is the danger line for the Republicans. If the state ticket is elected by less than 25,000 then there is a strong probability of the Democratic ticket winning at the national election two months later. But if the 25,000 mark is reached or passed it can be taken as a sure indication that the country will go Republican. This belief is sustained by the statistics for many years back.

Senator Proctor was a caller at the White House today and told the president that when the Republicans of Vermont went to the polls to vote for their

COLOGNE AND SACHET BAGS NOT WANTED BY SOLDIERS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LIAO-YANG, July 29.—A special dispatch from the front to a newspaper here begs the people at home not to send eau de cologne, perfume sachets or gloves, saying that such presents are insulting while soldiers need indispensable articles like boots and linen.

The Russian soldiers are complaining of the weight of their accoutrements, which is exceedingly onerous in the mountains. Their high boots are especially cumbersome and the stitched soles wear out easily. It is claimed they should be replaced by low American boots with nails in the soles.

state candidates on September 6 they proposed to roll up a majority sufficient to assure him of success in November. They believe they can go far above the 25,000 mark. The campaign will open soon and it will be a hummer from start to finish. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Speaker Cannon are booked for speeches and an effort is being made to have Senator Spooner and other big guns of the Republican party take the stump there.

A cabinet meeting was held at 11 o'clock at which six of the nine cabinet officers were present. Secretaries Hay, Taft and Hitchcock were absent. Departmental matters were discussed, interspersed with some personal chat and politics. Cabinet officers congratulated the president on his speech of acceptance which they considered a strong one.

No call on Banks.

Secretary Shaw of the treasury assured the president that he had no intention of making another call upon the United States depository banks for funds. The heavy expenditures of the present month have exceeded the receipts by more than $20,000,000, and thus the working balance of the treasury has been reduced to $28,000,000. It was reported that the secretary would call upon the depository banks for funds to keep this balance up to the $50,000,000 that tradition has prescribed as the lowest proper amount. But Mr. Shaw said he did not consider $28,000,000 too low when it was remembered that the government had on deposit subject to call at any time $112,000,000.

William A. Thomas, who is a candidate to succeed Gen. Charles Dick in the house from the Nineteenth Ohio district, was introduced to the president by Representative James Kennedy of Youngstown. Mr. Thomas said the Republicans of his district expected an increased majority for the ticket this fall.

Representative Charles Q. Hildebrandt of the Sixth Ohio district, was also at the White House. He had heard that Senator Foraker had been given the federal patronage in his district. But the president eased his mind on that subject. L. W. STRAYER.

Republicans Offer Inducement for Acceptance of Nomination for Governor.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—It has been agreed practically by the Republican state leaders to pledge Elihu Root an election to the United States senate if he will permit himself to be nominated for governor this fall. It was believed by the Republican leaders tonight that with this understanding Mr. Root would consent to head the Republican state ticket.

His chief objection to taking the nomination has been that his official duties would require all of his time and make it impossible to devote any time to the practice of law, and that he could not afford to remain longer in public life. As a member of the senate, however, he would be able to continue his practice and at the same time fill a position which the president would like to see him occupy.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—County Coroner A. C. Hagan has received from the West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, a complete analysis of the stomach of Mrs. Madison Bear, who suddenly died here several weeks ago under mysterious circumstances. The stomach contained a large amount of laudanum. The authorities here are inclined to believe the case was one of suicide.

ALTOONA, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—Harry Auker, aged 17, was killed by a train today.

BIG MACHINE CONCERNS FIGHT FOR A CONTRACT

MILWAUKEE, July 29.—(Special.)—A hot fight between the Allis-Chalmers Company and the William Tod Company of Youngstown, O., for the contract for a new pumping station was today awarded to the Tod company for about $64,000, estimated to be $30,000 less than the actual cost of the plant. The Tod company bid on the contract through Irving Reynolds. The deposed chief engineer of the Allis-Chalmers company, and admitted that its undercost bid was intended as a blow against the Allis-Chalmers company in the Milwaukee company's home. The Allis-Chalmers company bid, it is understood, was $26,000 under the Tod, but refused to include an eight-hour union-made clause.

PLEHVE'S FUNERAL TO BE TOMORROW

Assassin Does Not Regret Crime. De Witte Not Likely to Succeed Murdered Man.

DEED LIKELY TO AID PEACE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 29.—The funeral of M. Von Plehve, the assassinated cabinet minister, will be held at the Novoodevchy monastery, St. Petersburg, Sunday afternoon. Requiem mass will be celebrated twice daily until the funeral service. His son and daughter were at the mass this afternoon.

Despite the prominence already given to M. De Witte's name, well-informed circles here do not believe he will succeed the late Von Plehve as Russian minister of the interior, as it is not considered likely that he would accept the office, without receiving such extensive powers as the emperor would hesitate to accord. M. De Witte has arrived from Berlin. In official quarters the list of candidates who are numerous, is headed by M. Muravieff, the minister of justice. Prince Obolensky, the governor general of Finland, and Governor General Klefels of Kieff.

The death of Von Plehve is not expected to affect the course of the war, which, it is added, no minister, however powerful, could stop at present, but the tragedy will unquestionably facilitate the peace negotiations when the possibility for their initiation arises.

The assassin was examined by an investigating magistrate today and refused to make any statement. The post mortem examination of the remains of Von Plehve shows that his death was instantaneous. The entire lower part of his face was destroyed and the upper part was shockingly furrowed by bomb splinters. The ears were torn off, there was a gaping wound in his breast, his left shoulder was mangled, his left arm was broken off between the wrist and the elbow and his legs were broken.

An account of the tragedy published this afternoon says the assassin, Lego, Sipiagin and Pobiedonostseff committed suicide by shooting. He had a revolver in his hand when seized. The operation on him was so successful that he is expected to recover in three weeks. The murderer is still in the hospital. He is a handsome man of about 25 years, with blonde, regular features.

He admits there was a widespread plot, but avoids giving the slightest clue to his identity. He says he was actuated by humanitarian motives and expresses no regret. The police are astounded at the extent of the plot, which was against all the cabinet ministers, but did not include the emperor. The assassin, while awaiting the coming of M. Von Plehve, excited no suspicion, owing to his wearing a railway official's cap. Had he failed, his accomplice, now under arrest, was a half mile away ready with another bomb. On hearing the explosion the accomplice hired a boatman to row him toward the sea, and as the boat proceeded, dropped a package into the canal. On landing, the boatman being suspicious, had him arrested.

One of the pieces of Von Plehve's carriage was found in a second-story window of a house adjoining the Hotel Warsaw, and pictures were blown off the walls of another neighboring house. The force of the explosion threw a woman a hundred feet away out of a drosky. She thought it was an earthquake.

Madame Von Plehve, widow of the deceased statesman, arrived here today. Friends tried to persuade the widow not to look at the remains of her husband, but she could not resist the impulse. The sight of the body caused the widow, who suffers from heart trouble, a terrible shock and she fell to the floor in a fainting condition. Doctors revived her and she was sent to the minister's villa on the islands of the Neva, her son accompanying her.

On account of the situation here American Ambassador McCormick, although he has not completed his cure at Carlsbad, has decided to cut short his vacation and will leave for St. Petersburg Saturday.

LEISHMAN SEES SULTAN AFTER TWO YEARS' EFFORT

Pittsburgher Gives No Particulars, but It Is Considered a Step Forward.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—After about two years of effort John G. A. Leishman, minister from the United States to Turkey has succeeded in obtaining an audience with the sultan. The fact was cabled by Minister Leishman to the state department today and was received with considerable satisfaction as an indication that a speedy settlement of this government's differences with Turkey may be near.

Minister Leishman's dispatch gave no particulars. It simply announced that he had obtained a long audience with the sultan. The state department is not advised whether or not the result of the audience was satisfactory but as Minister Leishman explains, that today's audience was the beginning of a series of conferences it is inferred that better relations with Turkey are at hand.

DOCTOR IS ARRESTED.

Girl Charges Former Pittsburgher With Getting $180 from Her.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 29.—(Special.)—Miss Nellie Butler, cashier for "Wonderland," at Idora park here, asked the police to apprehend Dr. A. W. Henry. He was arrested at the Park hotel in Warren.

According to the girl's story, she met him in New Castle. He had come here from Pittsburgh about a year and a half ago and opened an office for treating special diseases. She charges he made love to her and she came to Youngstown to be nearer to him. He proposed and was accepted. Later, she says, he told her that he would be arrested unless he secured some money. He asked her how much she had, and she told him $180, which he said would be just enough. He got the money. Last Tuesday he was married to Miss Bessie Raney. When Miss Butler learned of it she wanted her money back.

CONVERSE SUCCEEDS TAYLOR

Important Post in the Naval Service Filled by Secretary Morton.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(Special.)—Rear Admiral Converse, now chief of the bureau of ordnance, was selected today by the president and Secretary Morton of the navy as the successor of the late Rear Admiral H. C. Taylor.

The berth is a most important one, and it is said that there were many applicants for the place, among them being Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans.

Admiral Converse has not only a large theoretical but a practical knowledge of naval affairs and his selection has given satisfaction. There has been no suggestion as yet to an officer to fill the place of chief of ordnance, which is also an extremely important position.

RUSSIANS SAY THEIR ENEMY IS POORLY FED

SINTSINTIN, MANCHURIA, July 29.—It has been definitely established, the Russians say, that Chinese are within the Japanese lines, which accounts for the extension of their lines of communication. Owing to the bad roads the Japanese are said to be suffering greatly from lack of food. Rotten barley and boxes of wet biscuits thrown away by the Russians at Tzyan Chan were eagerly pounced upon by the Japanese.

RUSSIA LOST ABOUT 2,000

Thursday. The refugees report that exceedingly heavy fighting by land and by sea to the east and the northeast of Port Arthur occurred on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. They say that this bombardment was the heaviest experienced since the beginning of the siege, and that the Russian forts made very little reply to the Japanese fire.

Field Marshal Marquis Oyama, accompanied by his staff, left Port Dalny on Tuesday. He is conducting the Japanese operations in person.

The fresh meat supply in Port Arthur is exhausted. Only the troops are getting salt meat. Non combatants are subsisting mainly on oatmeal and rice.

The refugees bring details of the sinking of the steamship Hipsing, which belonged to the Indo-China Navigation Company. She was passing Pigeon bay within the three-mile limit early in the morning of July 16 when the forts fired four times across her bows. She refused to stop, and four shots were then fired into her side. As she still continued to steam ahead, a Russian torpedo boat ran out and sank her. Four of her Chinese crew were killed, and eight Chinese passengers were wounded. The officers of the steamer, who were foreigners, and one foreign passenger were taken to Port Arthur. The captain was arrested and placed in confinement for refusing to stop his ship.

BELLIGERENTS MAY USE BALLOONS FOR DYNAMITING

Five Year Restrictive Agreement Made at The Hague Expired Yesterday.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Today marks the termination of the agreement entered into by the powers at The Hague peace confrence, to which Russia and Japan were signatory, whereby the use of war balloons for throwing destructive explosives was prohibited for five years. Both Russia and Japan are now free to use the balloons to hurl dynamite into an enemy's camp. Developments in this direction will be closely watched by American strategists. It is assumed here that both governments are advised of the termination of the restrictions.

The Hague conference first adopted a resolution perpetually prohibiting the use of balloons for projecting dynamite into an enemy's camp, but subsequently, on motion of Gen. Crozier, now chief of the bureau of ordnance of the war department, who was a delegate from this country, this prohibition was limited to five years. Gen. Crozier proposed that limitation because, while it was then recognized that the dirigibility and accuracy of travel of balloons was very uncertain, so that explosives, instead of falling among the forces of the enemy might drop among non-combatants, it was believed efficient and practicable work might be made possible later.

SKRYDLOFF MAY TAKE OUT BALTIC SQUADRON

ST. PETERSBURG, July 29.—There is an unconfirmed rumor that Vice Admiral Skrydloff is coming back to St. Petersburg to take out the Baltic squadron. It is said that Vice Admiral Rodestvensky, in command of the Baltic squadron, is ill. The squadron's departure for the far east will not take place for at least two weeks.

VLADIVOSTOK, July 29.—It is definitely known that Viceroy Alexieff is coming here. Quarters for him and suite of 20 have been prepared in the gymnasium.

BRAKEMEN MUST HELP.

Pennsy Superintendent Orders Them to Give Aid to Firemen.

ALTOONA, PA., July 29.—As a result of the brakemen of the freight crews on the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad refusing to aid the firemen because of the recent dropping of one brakeman of each crew, Superintendent C. A. Preston has issued orders to the effect that it will be the duty of the front brakeman to assist the firemen from Rye to Mifflin on all eastbound trains and from Lewistown Junction to Huntingdon on westbound trains.

The brakemen will also be obliged to shovel down coal from Spruce Creek to Tyrone Forge and assist at all coal and water stations.

Dinner to Admiral Jewell.

CORFU, July 29.—(Copyright Cable.)—Charles E. Hancock, United States consul here, gave last night a dinner in the garden of the Hotel D'Angleterre to Admiral Jewell. Among the others present were the governor of Corfu and Countess Malax, Capt. Colby of the Olympia, Capt. Briggs of the Baltimore, Capt. Southerland, Flag Lieutenant Jewell and Lieutenant Watts.

the first time the text of the Russian rule under which the Vladivostok squadron is acting. The dispatch bears internal evidence that it was directly inspired by Vice Admiral Skrydloff, who is now with the squadron, as an answer to foreign and especially British criticism.

Russia's Turn to Protest.

LONDON, July 29.—Russia has filed a formal protest at the foreign office against British shipments of contraband to Japan. Since the beginning of the war Russia has carefully watched the manufacture of goods intended for the use of the Japanese government, and as soon as it was established that such goods were about to be shipped to a hostile destination, the facts were officially communicated to the British government, with the request that measures be taken to put a stop to it. It is further asserted that, in many cases, the government has not taken action, and it is understood that when the war ends Russia proposes to present a bill for damages to the British government steamers.

It is also learned that Russia does not intend to hasten the settlement of the question of the right of vessels of the volunteer fleet to pass the Dardanelles, since if negotiations on the subject were conducted at this time, as desired by Great Britain, Russia might be forced by the existing situation to grant concessions she would afterwards regret.

Premier Balfour, in a printed reply to the question announced by Thomas Gibson Bowles (Conservative), in the house of commons, July 27, asking for information regarding the actions of the Russian armored cruiser Dmitri Donskoi in the Mediterranean, confirmed the facts recited by Mr. Bowles, and added that the British government's view is that any ship using coal for purposes other than that for which it was obtained should not thereafter be accorded coaling facilities.

Knight Commander Claims.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—W. Mynderse, a New York attorney, representing some of the cargo owners of the steamer Knight Commander, sunk by the Russian Vladivostok squadron, called at the state department today and had a short informal conference with Solicitor Penfield respecting a formal presentation to the Russian government of the claims of those owners for the destroyed cargo. It was arranged that a written brief should be submitted later on.

It is clear to the officials here that regardless of any rules which Russia may have laid down for her own government respecting the sinking of neutral ships, the practice, opposed as it is to all modern principles of international law, cannot be permitted by this government without a strenuous protest.

Korea Never Knew Her Danger.

TOKYO, July 29.—The steamship Korea arrived at Yokohama at 7 o'clock this morning. She saw no Russian warships and was not aware of danger. She saw the steamship Doric, which was prepared to give warning but did not speak to her. She did not speak the steamship Lyra, which left Yokahama last Tuesday for Seattle.

The Korea did not go to Midway Island because she was late and was trying to make up lost time. The weather was thick yesterday and this probably accounts for her escape. Capt. Seabury was astonished when the boarding launches informed him yesterday of the risk he had been running.

ROOT IS A POSSIBILITY.

Odell Admits That the Former Secretary of War May Be Nominated.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Gov. Odell said today that he had been in favor of the nomination of Elihu Root for governor for the last six months. He also said there was a very strong sentiment up the state for Root and no opposition worth mentioning.

"Do you think Mr. Root's nomination is not a possibility?" the governor was asked.

"No," he replied, "I won't say that it is impossible."

Gov. Odell made these statements in an interview in which he said he could not give out the letter from Mr. Root which was read at yesterday's conference of Republican leaders.

NEGRO SCHOOL TEACHER IS SHOT BY WHITE MOB

AUSTIN, TEX., July 29.—John W. Larrimore, a negro school teacher and a Republican politician of state prominence, was taken from his home at Lockhart, 30 miles south of here, by a mob of eight white men, and shot and killed. Mrs. Larrimore shot at the members of the mob with a pistol, and she says she wounded one of them. Larrimore is said to have made an offensive remark which caused the attack on him.

now fails, by reason of the acquittal, and he will not be tried. So great were the efforts of former District Attorney John C. Haymaker and Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., the day previous, that neither were in court to hear the verdict. District Attorney Stewart would not comment upon the verdict, saying the commonwealth had done its duty and was of course satisfied, as a jury had passed upon the case. Mr. O'Brien was not in the court room, his wife lying at the point of death.

Miss Cupps is going away for a time, as she says she cannot rest in the city, going through the terrible ordeal of such a trial, and spending four months in jail.

RUPTURE LIKELY TODAY.

Answer of France to Vatican Has Been Sent to Rome.

PARIS, July 29.—The council of ministers, after discussing the vatican situation, decided to keep its decision secret. Premier Combes, when questioned, declared that diplomatic etiquette forbade him to speak. The statement is interpreted to indicate a complete rupture of diplomatic relations with the Holy See. The French government's note was telegraphed this evening to M. DeCourcel, the secretary in charge of the French embassy to the vatican, who will communicate it to the vatican authorities tomorrow. It is believed that the embassy staff will leave Rome tomorrow and that the papal nuncio will leave Paris.

Pretender Takes Moroccan Town.

TANGIER, July 29.—The French cruisers Kleber and Galilee arrived here today. It is believed the Kleber has troops on board. The arrivals of the ships excited the Moors. It is rumored that heavy fighting has taken place between the forces of the pretender, Bu Hamara, and the imperial troops, and that the pretender has occupied Udja.

NATIONAL GUARD BREAKS CAMP

All Commands in Second Brigade, Except Eighteenth, Will Reach City This Morning.

PERMANENT SITE ADVOCATED

By JOHN P. COWAN.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GETTYSBURG, PA., July 29.—Camp Col. M. S. Quay has become a memory. At 6 o'clock tonight the banner, which floated before the division headquarters, dropped from the flag staff when Gen. Charles Miller and his staff departed in a special car on their return homeward. All the commands of the Second brigade, except the Eighteenth regiment, entrained before dark and will reach their armories in Western Pennsylvania tomorrow forenoon. The Eighteenth will remain until 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to give the soldiers an opportunity to visit the places of interest around the battlefield. The First and Third brigades will break camp at sunrise tomorrow.

Many officers who are leaving Gettysburg expect to come back again next year. Strong efforts are being put forth to have the ground purchased for a permanent camp site. General Miller received the newspaper correspondents this afternoon at his headquarters and told them that he heartily favored annual division encampments and hoped to see the Gettysburg site selected. "This is an ideal place for the mobilization of the guard," said General Miller. "This historic field means an education for the men and teaches them patriotism, which they cannot gain elsewhere in this country. However, I do not think it proper to pitch our camps here on the immediate scene of conflict to mar the beauty of this sacred spot. There is abundant room in the adjoining fields and these would furnish a fine parade ground. The military commission looks with much favor upon the selection of Gettysburg and the campaign will be earnestly prosecuted."

Gov. Pennypacker and his staff left at 10 o'clock this morning after the inspection of the artillery and cavalry. He passed a neat compliment on the appearance of Battery B and all the inspecting officers joined in declaring it the crack artillery organization in the state. The battery and the Fourteenth will receive a hearty homecoming when they reach Pittsburgh tomorrow. The splendid appearance made by Col. W. E. Thompson's command has enthused the friends of the boys in Pittsburgh and a score of congratulatory telegrams came today from friends back in Western Pennsylvania. The Tenth and Sixteenth will receive just as hearty receptions when they go back to the smaller towns.

The Eighteenth will improve its time during its extended stay and will have the regular drills and parade. The boys tonight had a jolly time in camp and exchanged compliments with their comrades in the Eastern regiments.

WEALTHY MAN DEPORTED.

Reappeared at Cripple Creek, but Was Again Sent Out of Town.

CRIPPLE CREEK, COL., July 29.—(Special.)—Despite the fact that the governor has called off martial law, military rule apparently still exists. Maj. C. A. Naylor, the military commander, is acting city marshal, and it has just came to light that yesterday he engaged in the deportation of Patrick McGarvel, owner of large property interests in Victor, who was deported to the Kansas line in June, and to whom Sheriff Bell refused protection.

McGarvel left the train yesterday afternoon and was immediately taken in charge by Naylor, who allowed him to attend to a few business affairs, but was placed on board the next outgoing train and warned that in future police protection would not be afforded him if he returned to camp. McGarvel is worth probably $25,000.

DEMOCRATS TO HAVE A PRIMARY

Three Men in Ninth Ward Running for Nomination for Select Council.

REPUBLICANS GOING FISHING

The Democrats of the Ninth ward will hold a primary election today to decide on a nominee for select council to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Thomas Geary. It will probably be, as usual, a lively primary, for there is a three-cornered fight on.

Five candidates were named at the suggestion meeting last week, but Frank Crowley and Joseph C. Cyphers have withdrawn, leaving Sullivan, Sweeney and Knorr to fight it out.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles was in Pittsburgh yesterday and called on Col. James M. Guffey. Col. Guffey said he and his distinguished visitor did not talk about politics, but that Gen. Miles "simply called to pay his respects."

Arch Mackrell, Samuel J. Grenet and Thomas G. McClure, the advance guard of the Duquesne Fishing club, left last night for the fishing grounds in Georgian bay to get things ready for the members. The three men have undertaken this duty for years past, being so successful in their management that the other members of the club will have nobody else do it.

The rest of the members will depart tomorrow night and expect to arrive at the camp on Monday at 2 p. m. There they will be met by the steamboat chartered by the club and will be taken 35 miles to Jubilee island, where the two houseboats owned by the club will be moored.

The Duquesne Fishing club, which was formerly known as the George L. McFarlane club, is composed of well known Republicans. Senator William Flinn is a member, but is unable to go to the camp this year. Among those who will go are Robert Ostermaier, secretary of the Republican city committee; ex-District Attorney John C. Haymaker; Fred W. Edwards, ex-county register; John P. Hunter, Frank J. Klumpp, ex-councilman, L. L. Davis, vice chairman of the Republican county committee; Assistant District Attorney Grimes, ex-City Clerk R. J. Martin, Councilman P. J. Manion, Bert Fhlan, a son of the senator; ex-County Commissioner W. W. Murray, W. J. McClure, Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, candidate for congress; T. O. Atkinson, F. N. Mugele and Albert Hammar.

The party will carry along four colored men, Tallman Hughes, the policeman; Rash Smothers, and Bailey and Jackson, champion cooks.

When the members arrive they will find 12 rowboats on hand, each in charge of a guide. At 6 a. m. the boats will be towed to the fishing grounds by the steamboat. Jubilee island is 35 miles from Penetanguishene, the railway terminus, whence the trip to the island is made by steamboat.

The rules of the club permit a membership of only 25, and there is a waiting list of a like number.

NEW DEPARTMENT HOUSE WILL NOT OPEN LABOR DAY

President Dolan Unable to Induce Miners to Take Part in Labor Day Parade.

McCreery & Co., who are to open up a large department store in the Oliver building, Wood street and Sixth avenue, will not throw open its doors September 5, as they have previously announced. In deference to the wishes of the labor leaders the store will not open until one day later. When the labor leaders read the announcement that the store would commence business September 5, Thomas Blackburn, secretary of the Labor day demonstration, communicated with H. A. Hampton, general superintendent, regarding the matter. Mr. Blackburn received the following communication yesterday afternoon:

GEORGE BOYD,
Candidate for Adjutant General of Building Trades Division.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 29, 1904.

Dear Sir:—I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 28th, calling attention to the fact that Labor day comes on the 5th of September. It was an oversight on our part asking our people to report for certain departments on that day. We will notify all of them immediately to report on Tuesday morning, September 6. I thank you for calling my attention to the matter, and wishing you every success, I am, yours truly,

McCREERY & CO.

H. A. Hampton, General Superintendent.

Great interest is being manifested in the election of division officers for the building trades division of the parade. George Boyd of the structural ironworkers announced himself as a candidate for division adjutant general. The election will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Knights of Labor hall, 535 Smithfield street. The Sunday following the iron and glass organizations will meet to elect division officers.

The executive board met the officials of the United Mine Workers yesterday afternoon to discuss the latter's refusal to turn out Labor day. President Dolan said it was impossible to get the rank and file to participate, as they voted unanimously at the convention not to turn out.

Employment for All Members.

The threat of President William Phillips, Jr., of the Amalgamated Association of Window Glass workers, to prohibit the men employed in the machine-equipped factories of the American Window Glass Company from securing employment in the hand-blown plants is not taken seriously here. The K. of L. organization claims it will have no men to spare, and consequently Mr. Phillips will not have a chance to prevent the Paul St. Peters' union members working in hand-blown plants. Several independent manufacturers have already signed the local 300 scale and expect to start up their plants September 1.

Brakeman Hurt in Wreck.

In a freight wreck on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, near Homestead, yesterday, Thomas C. McCullough of Connellsville, a brakeman, was thrown from the top of a car and injured. He was taken to Mercy hospital and is in a serious condition. Two of the cars jumped the tracks.

Collections of Water Rents.

City Treasurer Frauenheim yesterday made a report to Controller Larkin on the water rent collections for 1904. The total water assessment was $1,106,672, the exonerations amounted to $18,791 and the collections were $787,762, leaving $850,- 047 delinquent.

Sixteen-Day Vacation at the Seashore.

Pennsylvania railroad next special excursion leaves Pittsburgh Union station at 8:55 a. m., August 4. Evening trains at 4:50, 9:00 and 10:00 p. m. Rates, $10 in coaches or $12 in parlor or sleeping cars.

OLD WILL UNITE AGAINST THE NEW

Philadelphia Company and Verner Syndicate Will Fight Hall Plans.

LIVELY TUSSLE IS IN SIGHT

United action on the part of the Philadelphia Company and the so-called Verner syndicate to block the Hall syndicate off Grant Boulevard is promised. Whatever may be the differences between the Philadelphia Company and the Verner syndicate as to which of them owns the old charter, there is no doubt in either's mind that the Hall syndicate does not own it, and there is no intention on the part of either to allow that syndicate to acquire it.

With all the resources at the command of this "combine" the grant of the new charter for the boulevard will be fought at Harrisburg. The Verner syndicate heard early in the week that such an application had been made, but proof of this did not appear until about two days ago. It was found that the representatives of the state department, as well as Gov. Pennypacker, were all at the division encampment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania at Gettysburg and that until their return there would be no charter granted. When they return the protest of the old applicants for traction rights on the boulevard against the new applicants will be pressed.

The legality of the extension of the Grant and Liberty charter to permit the occupation of the boulevard itself does not seem to be worrying the other interests. They are willing to make a fight for it in the courts if necessary.

In a quiet way negotiations for the final settlement of the disputes between the Verner syndicate and the Philadelphia Company have been in progress for several months past. Neither side is eager to have the matter taken into the courts, as was threatened when the feeling over the matter was so acute that each side was calling the other unpleasant names. When this dispute is settled it is the reported intention of the Philadelphia Company to go ahead with the work and build a first-rate line to Bellefield out in the driveway. It is possible that this line will be constructed within the next few months.

Just what would happen if the claims of the various interests should be taken into the courts is something of a mystery. There have always been dark rumors in connection with the franchise fight last winter, and if perchance too much should become public in court, the outcome might be decidedly interesting for quite a number of persons.

BOND SALE ORDINANCE VICTORY FOR LARKIN

Controller Says It Was He Who Suggested Accepted Plan to City Solicitor.

The manner in which the ordinance for the sale of filtration bonds is prepared is claimed as a victory by Controller Larkin. The bonds, as told in The Gazette yesterday, are to be sold as needed and not in one block, so that the city will save much money in interest charges.

"That was my idea from the beginning," said Mr. Larkin yesterday, "and I suggested it to the city solicitor, but he said the city charter would not allow of that method being pursued. The money to be paid for the filtration contract must all be in the city treasury, he said, before the contract could be let. Had the ordinance been prepared according to the view the city solicitor then held, I would have opposed it, as I do not think it right to place so much money on deposit with favored banks, at the low rate of interest they pay the city."

Director Bigelow sustains Larkins' statement that City Solicitor Rodgers once thought the bonds must be sold in a block, for he said yesterday:

"I know that before Mr. Rodgers went away he had prepared an ordinance providing for the sale of all the bonds at one time."

The draft of the new ordinance is in Mr. Bigelow's desk, but he said he had not yet read it.

In answer to a question, Bigelow said that if he remained in office the filtration plant would be built without scandal. He does not believe in letting the work out piecemeal, but thinks the whole job should be let to one contractor, who can be held responsible in case of default.

City councils are now taking their summer vacation, and if the ordinance providing for the sale of bonds and the ordinance calling for bids on the filtration contract are to be passed before the regular meeting in September, special meetings of councils will have to be called.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

William Roseburg Admits Owing His Wife Money But Disputes Amount.

William Roseburg, vice president of the Bank of Pittsburgh, admits that he made a pre-nuptial agreement with his wife, who has filed a suit against him to recover $40,000, which she alleges is owed her as interest under the agreement, but he denies it is as much as she claims.

Mrs. Roseburg has not been living with her husband for some time, but has made her residence at Irwin avenue and Wightman street, with her father, Samuel T. Owens. Mr. Roseburg has been going to see her from time to time. Attorney J. Scott Ferguson is counsel for Mr. Roseburg. A. V. D. Watterson of the law firm of Watterson & Reid, attorneys for Mrs. Roseburg, said yesterday that there is no actual dispute between Mr. and Mrs. Roseburg, but merely a difference of opinion as to the amount of money due her from him. He said Mr. Roseburg owes his wife a certain amount of money, but has declined to pay that sum, therefore suit was brought.

Catholic Students' Examinations.

The synodal board of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Catholic church has set August 24 as the date on which examinations will be held for students who have completed the classical course and who wish to take up philosophy. An examination will be held on the same date for those who have finished philosophy and wish to study theology. The examinations will be held at the Epiphany school building in Washington street. Applicants can secure information relative to the examinations from the Rev. Father Thomas Devlin, secretary of the board and pastor of Holy Cross church, Carson and South Thirty-first streets.

Three Homeless Little Wanderers.

The three small children of Casper Zins formerly living in South Fifteenth street, were found wandering about the streets late last night and were taken to the South Side police station. The parents of the children are separated and the children have no homes. It is not known where the parents are.

The Teachings of Your Mother

She Told You to Save Your Money and Keep Clean, Didn't She?

It is an easy thing to do if you have your clothing cleaned by the new process of the Linnekin Company. Your clothing is cleaned perfectly and when pressed by the Linnekin tailors it looks as it did when it first came from the tailor shop.

You save a good deal of money in the course of time if you will have Linnekin's look after your clothing for you. And you will always appear clean. Linnekin's prices are about 20 per cent lower than those of other establishments.

BESSEMER IS NOT BEHIND NEW LINE

Carnegie Ore Road Has No Connection With "Lake Erie & Pittsburgh."

PROJECT STILL A MYSTERY

Absolute denial on the part of the United States Steel Corporation interests of any connection with the projected "Lake Erie & Pittsburgh" railroad is made.

It had been reported that this line would be made a Bessemer & Lake Erie connection. From a point on the Bessemer, presumably in Mercer county, to Youngstown, a line would be built, it is said. The proposed route of the Lake Erie & Pittsburgh is from Lorain to Youngstown. This would connect the Bessemer with Youngstown and give it another lake port.

James H. Reed, president of the Bessemer & Lake Erie, said last evening that that road has no interest in the project and that he personally does not know who is backing it.

Applications for terminal connections for the new line have been made to the officials of the Ohio plant of the old National Steel Company, now the Carnegie Steel Company, at Youngstown, and of the great new plant of the National Tube Company at Lorain. When it was suggested that it would be better for the gentlemen asking for the connections to say who is behind the road they represented, it was simply stated that the time is not yet ripe for any announcement of this kind. Later, it was said, this would develop.

The mystery connected with the line has caused many guesses. The Wabash is credited with every new project that appears in this section at present, but this does not seem to be true in this case. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Lake Shore interests next received credit, but that also is absolutely denied and the unlikelihood of the Lake Erie building such a line is pointed out.

The Bessemer's present position does not justify it in such a plan, Judge Reed pointed out. The main purpose of the Bessemer is the supplying of Carnegie plants with ore. The Ohio plant has three connections already with the lakes, the Pennsylvania, Lake Shore and Erie.

The railroad interests and the interests controlling the United States Steel Corporation are too close to justify the belief that the Steel Corporation, with its Frick, Morgan and Rockefeller dominating interests, will build a new line to do what is being done very satisfactorily by three branches of the leading "community of interest" systems.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Company has admittedly been planning a line from Pittsburgh to Lake Erie, but this, too, it is pointed out, would not likely be built to Lorain, as the lake port of the projected Lake Erie & Pittsburgh, Geneva, O., is the port chosen for the Jones & Laughlin terminals. Available harbor room at Lorain is pretty well a thing of the past. An independent steel company would hardly build a line in such a way that it would took to two large plants of the United States Steel Corporation for tonnage.

No satisfactory solution of the identity of the new line has been found as yet, and the promoters have the credit still for covering their tracks most thoroughly. They have had enough money to complete the detailed surveys and to do a certain amount of construction. Further than that no one outside of their own circle seems to know what the line is all about.

MEAT EATERS ARE GOING BACK TO OLD FAVORITE

Butchers' Business Looks Better and Trade May Be Brisk Today.

The question of fresh meat prices is still bothering a big percentage of Pittsburgh housewives. They have bought heavily of other kinds of food, but a better demand for meat during the past two days indicates that a majority of them are going back to their first love, regardless of prices.

There is an unusual demand for eggs and potatoes, but the flurry in other markets here about the time meat prices went up as a result of the western strike, has passed and gone. People are getting more fresh meat. The supply is coming from local slaughterhouses and the quality is first-class, even better than usual for this season of the year.

It is expected that business will be active at the Diamond market today. Some dealers will say that their prices are no higher than one year ago. This is true with some butchers, who have always done their own killing. The majority of retail butchers, in fact, nearly all of them, have had to depend upon the west for their supply. Wholesale prices went up, they say, and retail prices had to be changed accordingly. Prices have commenced to ease off, however, and the marketer today may reap the benefit of a slight reduction on certain cuts of beef.

? Armenian Missionary Here.

The Rev. Father Mardigros Mighirlan, an Armenian Roman Catholic missionary, is at present the guest of the Rev. Father William Graham, pastor of St. Patrick's church, Liberty avenue and Seventeenth streets. Father Mighirlan came to Pittsburgh to get in touch with the Armenians who have come here to live. The Armenian population in this vicinity is estimated at 1,500. Father Mighirlan narrowly escaped death in three Moslem massacres of Christians in the Turkish empire and carries many scars of wounds received at the hands of the Turks.

MANY EXTRA MEN AND GIRLS APPLY

Call for Supers for Burning of Rome Brings Much Material and Talent.

WHITE DRESSES THE SESAME

"How many of you girls have white dresses," shrieked Stage Manager Fred C. Murray of the Pain's "Burning of Rome" pyro-spectacle in Central Turner hall last night, as he was inspecting applicants as supernumeraries.

"I have! I have! I have!" came cries from all over the hall.

"I have two," added a conceited little miss as the thunder abated.

"Mine's trimmed with green and blue ribbon. Does that make any difference?" inquired a demure little brunette.

She was told it did not conform with Roman modes.

In response to an advertisement for 200 "extra girls," about 100 appeared for inspection in Central Turner hall last evening, while a call for 500 "extra men" brought out over a thousand. Long before the doors opened at 8 o'clock the crowd gathered and four policemen were unable to keep them in line. The "extra men" were corralled in the large hall and the girls in one of the smaller halls.

There were young girls and old girls, brunettes, decided blondes and undecided blondes. Some brought their mammas, while there were some mammas unaccompanied.

"I know all about the business," declared one little blonde, with self importance; "we were on the road all last season and I done a sister turn that went great."

"Do you need any ballet instructors?" asked a matron of uncertain age.

"Emily is the most graceful child for her age I ever saw," insisted a proud mother, pushing her daughter to the front. "She could go on the stage any time she wants to, but we think she is too young."

Stage Manager Murray explained, in the face of many self-inflicted testimonials coming from all parts of the hall, that a "white dress" was the most important attribute required by the management and that talent was too apparent for further consideration. He then began weeding out "flower girls," "maids," "matrons" and "the populace."

"That will be all I need tonight," he concluded, with a wave of his hand.

"I won't go unless you take my friend," indignantly complained a "flower girl" as she turned in her card.

"Bring your friend with you," arbitrated the manager.

It was not necessary for the men to have "white dresses." Costumes are provided for the male supernumeraries. Lining up the applicants in a square, three rows deep, Mr. Murray began picking out 10 battalions of 25 each. They are to represent "priests," "senators," "slaves," "Roman guards," "Egyptians," "Greeks," "lictors," "charioteers," "citizens" and "the populace."

"I wuz wid yer last year, feller," called an ambitious applicant from the rear.

He was promptly accepted, with the result of many others claiming the same experience. All acceptable applicants were given cards of identification, showing their "class," and were instructed regarding rehearsals.

The selection of supernumeraries has been reduced to a system. The company carries a leader and "tall man" for each battalion. The supernumeraries fill in between and are instructed to "follow master." When the leader shouts for Rome "the gang" chimes in. When he takes flight behind the wings, the whole battalion follows the cue, while the "tall man" takes charge when the "reverse" order is given.

BUSY AS BEES.

Rosenbaum Company Busy Arranging the Stock of J. G. Roak Co., Bought by Them at Auction.

Since Thursday morning the clerks at Rosenbaum Company's stores have been kept busy sorting and repricing the stock of J. G. Roak Company. It was purchased by the "Women's Store" from the Fidelity Title & Trust Company, assignee, for a mere song.

"Roak" was Pittsburgh's finest exclusive shop for ladies' suits, coats, waists, skirts, costumes, millinery, neckwear, etc. It will, no doubt prove a revelation to Pittsburgh women the way the stock will be sold. Rosenbaum Company announce the lowest prices for fine goods ever known will prevail at the sale, which begins Monday morning next. This event comes at a most opportune time. The summer is still before us, and many women have not yet taken their vacation. This sale will offer all the opportunity to purchase the finest imported wraps, dresses, costumes, hats, etc., for a mere fraction of their value. No sale of goods as fine as the Roak stock was ever held in Pittsburgh before. No doubt thousands of women will wait for it. Saturday, July 30, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 12 of this issue.

Minister Leishman's cable message to the state department, saying that he has had a long conference with the sultan personally, makes it evident that he is progressing, if but slowly, in the negotiations for fair treatment of American schools in Turkey. Minister Leishman's meetings with the sultan have heretofore been brief and infrequent. He has not before had the proper opportunity for laying this matter before the Ottoman ruler in a way that brings impressive attention. The worst stumbling block in the way of the minister has been the reluctance of the sultan to discuss affairs of state directly with the representative of the government interested. Now that this has been fully overcome we may look for some final results from the hard work of Mr. Leishman.

Aside from the rush caused by the extremely late opening of lake navigation, the coal and ore movement between the Lake Erie ports and Pittsburgh is gratifyingly large. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road has broken all records and other lines have had all the business they could handle comfortably. This traffic is but one of the many accumulating signs that industry is quickening and business is taking on headway again. Compared with two years ago, the volume of business shows decrease, of course, but it compares favorably with that of four years ago, which may be taken to represent the normal condition of the country. Good crops in sight and good prices for them assure better things soon. All of the larger interests are preparing for improvement.

As might have been expected, the assassin of Von Plehve glories in his awful work. Like others of his kind, he is fanatic to the point of mania, though he speaks more reasonably of his object than the majority of his sort. He declares that as Von Plehve was killed and as his predecessor was murdered, so will his successor be sent out of life if the system of oppression characteristic of Russian administration is not abandoned. His argument is to the point, but it will carry no weight. The wishes of assassins cannot be respected, and it is but natural to conclude that good government may lie in going contrary to their desires. Usually government does go contrary, so no good cause is ever promoted by such foul means. Von Plehve's assassin has sacrificed his own and other lives to no purpose.

Maj.-Gen. Wood has issued an order directing that soldiers under his command in the Philippines be given every opportunity to learn to swim whenever they are located at points furnishing the proper facilities, and, if necessary, he will make the study of swimming compulsory. This is simply following up a policy of equipping the soldier with everything that will add to his safety and efficiency. It is especially important in the Philippines, where so many unbridged rivers must be crossed in the course of duty and where accidents due to capsizing of small boats are frequent. Besides adding to the safety of the soldiers, it should be a pleasing break in the monotonous round of duty to take a daily dip in the water. It would seem hardly possible that it would be necessary to make the study of swimming compulsory.

That the kaiser can be made to feel the weight of public opinion is shown by the fact that he is to receive the Southwest African colonists who are in Germany to present a memorial requesting relief from damages caused by the Herreros. Upon their arrival the kaiser went yachting and neglected them. Then followed a storm of disapproval, heartily voiced by the German press. The emperor has changed his mind. The colonists seem to have a clear case, as the raids of the Herreros were made possible by lack of military protection and the incompetence or worse of military officers on the ground. The kaiser's refusal to receive the colonists was undoubtedly prompted by the feeling that Germany's Southwest African colony has been too expensive already and has not proved a profitable investment. However, the German press has impressed upon the royal mind the fact that if he must have ambitions in that direction the bill must be settled in full.

The good results shown at the encampment of the National guard of Pennsylvania at Gettysburg emphasizes the need of a permanent division camp site at Gettysburg, or elsewhere in the state. Division encampments are more inclined to bring out the best that is in our citizen soldiery. There we have not only the rivalry of the various regiments to be the best in the brigade, but the rivalry of the brigades to be the best in the division. And we agree with Gen. Miller that it would be better to pitch the camp in fields adjoining the old battleground rather than mar the scenes of that famous conflict. There are sentimental as well as reasons more material why Gettysburg is an ideal location for a permanent camp site. Pennsylvania owes much to the zeal of her militia, and could pay no more fitting tribute than to give the soldiers a permanent home for their annual encampment.

Rains Favor Russia.

Torrential rains have again interfered with the advance of the Japanese armies, just when they were ready to strike Kuropatkin in full force. Kuropatkin, however, has been convinced that he cannot hold his positions at Hai-Cheng and Liao-Yang when the rains cease and is taking advantage of the superior transport afforded by the railroad to remove his troops to the north as rapidly as possible. The newspaper correspondents within his lines have been ordered to Harbin, which indicates the Russian purpose to fall back beyond Mukden. Alexieff, at the same time, is preparing to go to Vladivostok.

Since the occupation of Niuchwang by the Japanese they, too, have acquired railroad transport and are on a plane of equality with Kuropatkin during the rainy season. By the close of that season they will be in much better position. They will have the railroad and a much shorter line, the Liao-Ho river as far as it is navigable, and, in addition, the roads used thus far in the campaign.

There are persistent rumors from several quarters of the fall of Port Arthur, following a general engagement begun on Thursday morning. If this rumor be not true there is reason to believe the end there is not far off. The garrison grows weaker daily by reason of its losses in killed, wounded and sick. The latter must be a large list, for men under the strain of siege succumb easily to illness. It is probable the original 30,000 in the garrison can show little if any more than half that number of effective men. Once in possession of Port Arthur the Japanese transport will be vastly superior to that of Russia and transport is of as much importance in a campaign as skillful marksmanship.

Suggestions Invited.

An invitation is extended by the capitol building commission to the people of Pennsylvania to offer suggestions for the interior decoration of the capitol. It is the purpose of the commission to commemorate at least one person representing each county in the state by having the name inscribed on interior panels. The mural paintings and frescoes are to deal with historic events within the state and the peopies comprising the population of Pennsylvania. It is upon these two points that suggestions are desired, and particularly with reference to the names that are to find place in this hall of fame.

There is not a county of the 67 in this great state that has not produced at least one citizen worthy to have his name blazoned upon the walls of the state building. Soldiers, statesmen, philosophers, scientists—patriots all. Pennsylvania is peculiarly rich in possession and recollection of its men of distinguished ability, so the difficult part of the task is to decide which of the many names to reject.

The people should be prompt to accept this invitation to assist the building commission. The object is a worthy one. The state house will be a credit to the commonwealth, representative of the Keystone state from foundation to dome, including the decorations. The names to be honored should be given careful thought.

His Difficult Task.

President Roosevelt's task is simplicity itself compared with that which confronts Judge Parker. President Roosevelt has only to confirm and enforce the points made in the party platform. He has ample room for displaying tact and energy of expression, and his speech of acceptance was a splendid exhibition of his ability in such matters. But he stood on perfectly solid ground as regards party issues, while Judge Parker has virtually to make his own platform. No candidate can stand upon such as that incongruous assortment of warped and rotten planks piled together by contending factions at St. Louis, and least of all Judge Parker. On every point but one he is an unknown quantity. The country now knows his sentiments on the gold standard through a belated utterance made under fire, but no one knows his views on any other public question. He has practiced the policy of silence so long as it was possible. It is possible no longer. The time has come when he must speak out, and he must speak fully and clearly in order to meet just expectations.

This is fully recognized by discerning critics disposed to be favorable to him. The Boston Herald remarks: "Commonplaces of gratitude, patriotism and good intentions will not serve for him. His one definite utterance has aroused an extraordinary expectation on the part of all who are undecided concerning their vote in November. They are anxious to learn whether that expression was exceptional or characteristic; whether he is as positive and firmly resolved on all issues as on the one issue regarding which he has spoken. He has made the standard by which he will be judged." The Baltimore News takes the same view of the case, holding that only in utterance as strong, direct and positive as that in his gold standard telegram is there any hope of a vigorous campaign and a possible victory.

Judge Parker is not, however, called upon to give any extensive review of public affairs and his sentiments concerning them. The crucial points are just four: The currency, the tariff, the Philippines and the trusts. Glittering generalities will not serve as regards any one of them. The people will want to know whether with acceptance of the gold standard he accepts the necessity of improving the currency system upon that basis. The financial points upon which Mr. Bryan proposed to query him are all pertinent and should be considered. The people will want to know whether he holds to the doctrine that protection is robbery; also whether he favors the abandonment of the Philippines; also whether he favors or opposes the policy of trust regulation by law. Judge Parker will have to be explicit on all these points, or else no amount of literary dexterity of treatment will save his letter of acceptance from being regarded as an attempt to evade the desire of the people to know just what his candidacy represents. They know that it does not represent the St. Louis platform, for they have his word for that. Now they want to know what it does represent.

The Business Situation.

Some disturbance was caused in the markets at home and abroad this week by the Russian naval raids on neutral vessels, and for a short time it looked as though the situation would become serious. In London there was a break in English consols, in Paris rentes sold off sharply and in New York there was a general reaction in the stock market. In Liverpool and Chicago wheat options advanced to the highest prices of the year. A firmer tendency was also noted in foreign discounts. The disturbance, however, was of short duration, both here and in Europe, which is accepted as proof of the underlying strength of the financial situation. In New York the loans, deposits and cash reserves of the associated banks have reached new high records, and the surplus reserve is higher than at any corresponding season for 10 years. The holdings of gold by the United States treasury also reached the largest total this week in the history of the government. The amplitude of our stock of gold and the ease in domestic money markets enabled bankers to look with complacency upon the sudden rise in sterling exchange to within a fraction of the gold-exporting point. No gold was engaged for export, however, there having been a decline in sterling, and the week closes with little or no trace of the war "scare" in financial circles.

The quarterly statement of the United States Steel Corporation, which is now looked forward to with as much interest as that attached to government reports on commerce, showed a decided improvement over the first quarter of the year, although it still makes an unfavorable comparison with the corresponding quarter in previous years. Since the close of the second quarter there has been a marked improvement in sentiment in the iron market. There has been a large increase in the output of coke, based upon prospective increase in pig iron production, and there is additional evidence of preparations being made for a revival of activity in iron trade circles during the closing quarter of the year. The expectation of such revival is based upon the promise that railroad and other corporations will by that time be able to float new securities from the proceeds of which they will purchase material. For more than a year past the railroads have been unable to do more than float temporary loans. Now the broadening tendency of the market for securities will, it is hoped, absorb bond and stock issues authorized for the purpose of making improvements.

This has been another week of favorable conditions for the growing crops and for harvesting those already matured. The relatively high price of wheat is stimulating the movement of the new grain to market, the primary receipts at western points running between 100,000 and 200,000 bushels a day over the average for the corresponding period last year. Nothing has occurred to warrant a reduction in the early estimates for the largest yield of cotton and corn ever raised.

In labor circles the outlook is less satisfactory than at any previous time this year. On Monday there was a strike of New England cotton mill workers, and during the week additions were made to the number of idle workmen connected with the meat-packing industry. There are indications of some friction in the anthracite coal region, but as yet it is not serious enough to arouse fears of a strike.

It is appropriate that the rumor that Port Arthur has fallen comes from Rome, which had somewhat of a fall itself some time ago.

By demanding that Great Britain prohibit the shipping of contraband goods, Russia proves that she is still able to spar for wind.

The snap-shot artists caught Judge Parker on horseback, and we will soon know whether he has a chance for the cowboy vote.

Talked of in Gotham

By ALEXANDER DODDS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—As tomorrow is the last day of the summer racing meet at the beach tracks the detectives of Greater New York are unusually busy looking about for the sharpers of all classes that put in an appearance on these occasions. Of course there are always crooks that come to the race meetings, but it is the closing days that have the police on their tiptoes. According to their annals it is always the last days that witness the coups of the confidence men and commoner thieves, and every "mug" on which they were "wise" was taken before Inspector McCluskey, down in Mulberry street today, and asked his program for the next two days. As Broadway is naturally the center to which everybody gravitates in New York, it was but natural that the detectives should follow the same route. There is always the usual Broadway squad of detectives that spend all their time on this great thoroughfare, but today there were plenty additional plain clothes men to be found "cruising," as they term it, up and down given districts looking for men of unsavory reputation.

Within 10 minutes this afternoon such well-known men of the force as Detective Sergeant William Ennis, Sergeant Day, Andy Handley and Billy Dooladay passed the Hoffman House, as well dressed and as unconcerned as if they were financiers out for their afternoon constitutional. Tonight the police had received no notification of any theft or confidence game being perpetrated at Brighton Beach track, and it was said that it is probable the bad men would be passed on to Saratoga, where the next racing meeting takes place, without anything of a notable character being accomplished here.

Hotel Beats Are Very Active.

That ban of the hotelkeeper's existence—the beat—is abroad in the city in unusual numbers, and with the beefsteak and other worries it is truly the summer of mine host's discontent. Yet he and his clerks must meet each arrival with a happy smile, for the more baggage, the broader the smile, for it is the size of your baggage that counts. And the rule now is more strict than ever. No baggage—pay in advance. Strange to say it is the big hotels that are getting hit the hardest this summer. The owners of smaller hostelries have been cheated so often that the ironclad rule of pay as you go is enforced everywhere. But at the big hotels it is a hard matter to tell a prosperous looking man who is about to become a guest that he must lay his money on the plate before he eats. But the glittering ring upon the finger too often is but paste and almost any of the hotel detectives will tell you he has been working overtime for weeks hunting men who left empty trunks in their rooms or issued a worthless check, when asked by the suave manager to pay a little on account.

Inland Merchants Flock to Metropolis.

The annual influx to this city of the inland merchants who are here to purchase their holiday stocks of merchandise is on. At every hotel there are scores and scores of buyers registered and every mercantile establishment is busy giving them tasty tips on seasonable goods and hints on how to see the metropolis by other lights than that of the sun. The two seem to go hand in hand. These visiting merchants are always taken as a business barometer of the entire country, for the manner in which they order the goods peculiar to their section, is said to give dependable forecast of conditions. The gist of conversation with several representatives is, that business is going to be good this fall and winter.

They Simply Must See the Town.

Business methods these days may strike some of the old-time merchants as a trifle peculiar, but the New York houses know if they are to be considered up-to-date, they must have a good corps of "gay boys" in their employ to show the out-of-town buyers a good time. Each year finds this feature of the business becoming more and more elaborate and now the quiet dinner at the manager's home has been supplanted by wine suppers and a hurrah time in the "red light" district. This gets the out-of-town man back to his hotel in time for a Turkish bath and a soft boiled egg before the clock hands point to 9 a. m. But it has passed out of the manager's hands. He is at the store early, bright as a dollar, waiting for his customer whose head will ache 60 or 90 days later, just a little harder than it did the morning he bought the goods. But that is then his business.

Are Following the Inspector's Hint.

Today the Brooklyn Ferry Company issued notices that owing to the orders of the government inspectors no automobiles other than electric machines would be carried upon its boats. The order says all fires must be extinguished before the automobiles enter the ferry slip and not relighted until they leave. As this means the big machines must be pushed on and off the boats, it practically bars all but electric autos. The company announces that the $500 fine that can be imposed for violation of the order of the government is too big to be risked. The Brooklyn company controls all the ferries of the downtown district.

This Boy Was Sentenced to a Bath.

Master William Eirich and about 10 pounds of coal dust were arraigned before Justice Ransom of the first criminal court today. The coal dust was evenly distributed all over Willie. His bountiful tears even could not wash a streak of white upon his coated cheek. The policeman in charge of the boy said he had arrested Willie for sleeping in a coal yard. The judge, after hearing the testimony of the boy to the effect that he had no home, sentenced him to a good bath. Willie wept.

Tom Taggart Opens the Game.

With his shirt sleeves rolled up and a handkerchief about his neck, Thomas Taggart, who told the Democratic national committee, when it made him chairman, that he was square, "opened" headquarters instead of a jackpot today on the sixth floor of the Hoffman House. The brawny Hoosier "called" those about him, and when it came to a "showdown" Tom was "there" with enough work to keep all of his lieutenants busy for several days. It was decided, however, that the Hoffman House would be used as but temporary headquarters and an effort is being made to find a suitable location in this city instead of Chicago. After starting things Taggart slipped out to Indiana tonight to look after his "interests."

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

This is a great country.

For instance, one can hardly say a word about anybody or anything without being brought to law and made to give the whys and wherefores concerning it.

Not long since something was said in this column about the Pennsylvania Dutch, and the ink was scarcely dry on the paper before queries began dropping in. As the references made to this large and frugal class were in no way offensive, there were no threats of libel or anything awful.

Some of the querists appear not to have ever heard of the Pennsylvania Dutch, while others seem to think they had all died long ago.

Next to Scotch-Irish, as makers of the Keystone state, come the Pennsylvania Dutch. They may not have made as much fuss as the Scotch-Irish, and may not have been as much in evidence in politics, but they surely have been getting in mighty good licks on the big, rough farms in the central part of the state, and in the western section, too.

* * * * *

"Aren't you a little off on the Pennsylvania Dutch?" queries one. "There are a good many Germans in the state and some straight Dutch. Hasn't somebody been stuffing you? Maybe you could give us an extract or two from the literature of these wonderful people."

Nothing easier.

Bis du widder fun mere haersht sin de Grishdawg ferby. Iverrail woo mer haerdsht sin se om reddy greega far Grishdawgs Barne un Festivals. "Pleased with a rattle, Tickled with a straw."

There you are and it is the real thing and no mistake.

If it is Pennsylvania Dutch literature our friend is after he can get whole libraries of it at Lancaster, Lewistown, or even up at Meyersdale. Possibly he can find some of the classics in our first-class bookstores.

More space would have been devoted to the real thing had it not been for the danger of twisting the typesetting machine and proof readers. The above selection is from Boonastiel and guaranteed by T. H. Harter of Bellefonte, Pa., to be genuine, high-class humor.

You can see for yourself that it is funny.

* * * * *

Possibly some of our Pennsylvania Dutch readers will take the time to write out a little something about their folks, and cite a few of the distinguished men whom they claim as kinsmen, just for the edification of those who seem to think there are no such people, or that the name is one applied to some low class of foreigners.

The fact of the matter is that it is no disgrace to be a Pennsylvania Dutchman, nor to be married into the tribe. As a people they are thrifty, and have money, and their young men and young women are worth while looking after by those who desire to marry well.

There are many books, and good ones, too, printed in their language, to say nothing of newspapers entire and in part. And yet there are those who never knew such a language is spoken in this state.

But it hasn't been so long since The Gazette surprised a lot of the folks hereabouts by publishing the fact that real Irish is spoken and read right here in the city, backing it up with extracts from the real old Celtic stuff. This language is taught here, and the literature studied.

Whether Pennsylvania Dutch is taught anywhere in the state, or is just inherited, is not known at this moment.

* * * * *

There are a lot of things we don't all know, and a lot more that we don't know as much about as we ought, and still a lot that we know more about than is good for our physical, moral and social well being.

However, all things knowable are bound to become known sooner or later, whether they are wholesome or not. If they are not they can be as easily discarded as peanut hulls or anything else that is unfit.

We think we know almost everything worth knowing, but each succeeding generation throughout all the coming generations will learn things that were not known to preceding generations.

But the oddest thing of all is that at this present date many of our alleged new things are being shown to be old, very old. Even Plato, one of the old timers, was quite familiar with facts which are flashed up every once in awhile as new discoveries.

These old timers appear to have been onto nearly, if not quite all of the rock bottom facts concerning things with which man has to do, and in which he is most interested. And yet you dub them pagans, dark minded, and pity their ignorance.

They may thank us for our pity, but they don't need it as much as we need their wisdom.

* * * * *

You will find the Pennsylvania Dutch to be descendants of an ancient and famous race of people, stalwart, hardy and full of fight, but hardly up to the Scotch-Irish as scrappers, while as farmers, vinters and stockmen they have no superiors in the state.

Occasionally you may come across a lady or gentleman of Pennsylvania Dutch descent who doesn't like the Dutch end of the name, so they say they are Pennsylvania German. This is a dead give away every time, for there is no such race, clan or tribe.

And why ashamed of being Dutch?

Wasn't it the Dutch that settled New York and made it the chief trading mart in the new world? And are not the descendants of these same sturdy, enterprising Dutch the mainstays of New York, and are they not the most extensive traders in the world? Their ships have discovered more trading points than those of any other people, while there isn't a trading post from the seal fisheries of Alaska to those of the south arctics that is not visited by these same Dutch.

They are good people to tie to.

* * * * *

Your Dutchman is not altogether unlike the Scotch-Irishman in that he is a stickler for the doctrines of his fathers, and is as ready to fight for them as to speak for them, and if needs be will leave his old home and seek a new one, even in a wilderness, where he may worship undisturbed.

There are the Boers, and a good lot of people they are, too. They are brave and strong and true, which is more than can be said of some people who have made a greater show in the world—more of the rocket-like show.

These Boers do not differ greatly in quality from the Roundheads who paved the way for the glorious institutions of which we are so proud, so justly proud.

And doesn't it look now as if the Boers had done the same thing for South Africa? Already cities and towns are being built where not long ago the enterprising Boer had established an outpost, and the paths he marked as he treked across the velt are now traversed by rushing trolleys and roaring locomotives.

Never go back on your Dutch ancestry. To do so only proves that you can't appreciate a good thing when you have it.

Thereupon the Large Beast allowed the Small One to enter, thus showing that the Skeleton at the Feast takes many Forms.

Question Unsolved

By DR. FRANCIS E. CLARK.

"It would almost need the pen of Tacitus or Dante," says John Morley, in his great life of Gladstone, "to tell the story of European power in South Africa." "For forty years," said Mr. Gladstone himself, in 1881, "I have always regarded the South African question as the one great unsolved, perhaps insoluble problem of our colonial system."

Nearly a quarter of a century has passed since these words were written, but South Africa's problems are yet unsolved.

The echo of them has reached America, but one can have no idea how vital or pressing they are until he visits South Africa, for here some of the world's battles are being waged today—not battles with Maxims and shrapnel, but none the less battles that affect the integrity of nations and the welfare of the world.

In some respects these conflicts and problems are of peculiar interest to Americans.

One of them relates to the race question—the everlasting conflict between Briton and Boer; another is one phase of the world-wide labor problem, which, just now, in South Africa turns upon the importation of Chinamen to work the mines of the Transvaal.

Of the first question one is tempted to think it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be. Singularly enough the seat of disturbance has been removed from the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, where the war raged in all its fury, to Cape Colony, the center of British influence, and which for generations has known only British rule.

Soldiers Are Reconciled.

As was the case after our own civil war, the old soldiers on both sides seem to be the first to be reconciled. The non-combatants, the women who lost brothers and lovers, the children who were left fatherless, and the people of the colony which could not directly take part in the war and where no battle was fought, are the ones who now find it the hardest to accept British rule.

It must be said in fairness that now that the war is over the English seem to be doing their utmost to conciliate their late foe, but it will be a long time before the dragon's teeth showed so abundantly between 1899 and 1902 will have raised their last crop.

One of the strangest whirligigs in the fortunes of any man has come to Dr. Jameson, whose name will always be associated with that iniquitous raid into the territory of a neighboring peaceful country. It will be remembered how the plans of Jameson were discovered by the Boers, how he was defeated, arrested, tried, imprisoned and sentenced to death in 1896.

This sentence was afterward commuted, and he was finally released. Now, that same Dr. Jameson, eight years later, is the leader of the Professions in the Cape Colony parliament and the premier of the colony.

The strangest thing remains to be told, that, though opposed politically by the great majority of the Dutch, he is popular among them personally.

One reason of this popularity is that he has taken his medicine manfully, and when he is taunted with the ill-omened raid, as, of course, he has been a thousand times in public and private, he has not replied, or tried to defend himself, but has practically said. "Lay on, gentlemen, I deserve it all."

Labor Question Is Vital.

It is interesting and somewhat amusing going from the atmosphere of New Zealand and Australia and find one's self, after a two weeks' journey across the Indian ocean, in an entirely different political zone, so far as this question of the introduction of Chinese labor goes.

It is more than a change from the tropics to the arctics.

Australia has taken up the question as though it was her own, and as though it was only an imaginary political boundary, instead of 5,000 miles of turbulent ocean that separates her from her sister colonies of South Africa. "King Dick Seddon," of New Zealand, has made South Africa his special care, and has fulminated in the press and on the platform, in parliament and out against the dreadful influence of Rand mine owners employing a few thousand industrious Chinamen.

He has spent any amount of the people's money in cablegrams, to express his abhorrence of the whole business, and has stirred up the legislatures of Australia to take the same ground.

In fact, you would judge from reading the labor organs of Australia and listening to the labor party orators that it was quite a sufficient cause of separation for the Australian colonies from the mother country, if the home government allowed the Johannesburg mine owners to give work to a Chinaman.

Indeed, the first act of the new premiers of the Australian commonwealth, when the labor party came into power a few weeks ago, was to refuse admission to some Chinamen who had gone home for a long visit, even though their certificates of former residence in Australia were unimpeachable.

Chinaman Just Suits Them.

But you sail from Melbourne or Sidney. In less than three weeks you sight the South African coast, and presto! change! all your Australian views of the "yellow skinned moral lepers" and the awful menace they are to white labor are met with cold and unkind incredulity: the Chinaman is one of the dearest fellows in the world. He is steady, sober, industrious, trustworthy. He will do the hard jobs and leave the easier work for the white man. He will make a much larger white population possible. In short, the gold mines of the Rand can no longer pay 300 per cent profit per annum unless he is imported in large numbers.

South Africa would seem to be the last country in the world that would need to import Chinese labor.

She has 7,500,000 of native blacks to a population of about 1,000,000 white people.

She has already imported tens of thousands of coolies from India, Malay and Java and Arabs from the north of her own country. What more can she want in the way of colored labor? But, as a matter of fact, the kaffirs are an unreliable quantity to be reckoned with where labor in the mines is considered.

They are a free, roving, lazy velt-loving race. They can earn enough in three months to supply their simple wants for the rest of the year. Why should they work like slaves for a fortune they can never use, or a rainy day that will never come? There are no rainy days for kaffirs of South Africa, so long as bananas grow on the trees, and "mealies" in the field.

Capt. Dovener Losing No Sleep.

"Republicans in my part of the country are not worrying about the danger of losing West Virginia," remarked the Hon. B. B. Dovener, the well-known representative from that state, at the Riggs house.

"We ought to carry the state this year by not less than 20,000, and I think the majority will be close around that figure. President Roosevelt is particularly strong with our voters, and the endeavor to get the electoral vote from him by the nomination of a home man on the opposition ticket, though a shrewdly calculated move, will not avail."

Capt. Dovener is in a district that will send him back to congress without any effort on his part, and a friend said last evening that the congressman could go to Europe and stay there until after the election, if he so desired, without at all endangering his political safety.—Washington Post.

PERSONALS

William M. Cook, a St. Louis hotel man, was in Pittsburgh yesterday. He said: "I should strongly advise all visitors to the St. Louis fair to secure their rooms in advance. The permanent hotels have long since refused to book any more guests for the world's fair period and many temporary hotels are making no more contracts."

Alfred Simeo of Peru passed through Pittsburgh last evening on his way to St. Louis, where he will spend several weeks. He said while the southwest limited of the Pennsylvania railroad was being made up for his western journey: "Our country is making excellent progress. Naturally Peru is one of the richest parts of the western hemisphere, but its splendid resources are in the very infancy of development. We have a species of cotton of longer staple and finer by far than any grown in Egypt or the Sea Islands, which brings the highest price of any known to commerce. This cotton does not grow on a small stalk, but on a big tree, and only has to be planted once in 14 years. It grows now in limited area in the northern part of Peru, but by irrigation the territory of the production can be greatly enlarged. All we need is capital and immigration and the construction of the Panama canal will supply both. It will bring us several thousand miles nearer to the United States than at present."

J. A. Wakefield, a well-known Pittsburgh attorney, and Robert P. Kennedy of Uniontown, left last night on a European trip. They expect to spend one month in Paris and later visit several other leading cities.

MAN AND WOMAN DIED OF POISON

Louis Cummings and Clara Weidner Were Sad and Took Carbolic Acid.

CORONER ORDERS AN ARREST

Louis Cummings and Clara Weidner were despondent yesterday, so they drank carbolic acid and are dead.

Cummings, who was 50 years old and white, died in his room in the Thomas hotel, Water and Ross streets. He had drank carbolic acid, presumably mixed with whisky, as his lips were not burned. Cummings had been drinking for several days and was despondent. Fannie Young, colored, who was registered as his wife, is under arrest at the Central police station, by order of the coroner, pending the result of the inquest this morning.

Cummings had been employed as a laborer on the Wabash railroad. He went to the hotel Thursday night intoxicated. The colored woman left the room about 3 o'clock, and when she returned, an hour afterward, she found him unconscious. Dr. S. C. Bowes of 525 Second avenue pronounced him dead.

The woman refused to give Deputy Coroner John Black satisfactory information regarding Cummings' death and was placed under arrest.

Clara Weidner, aged 35, of 127 Second avenue, took an ounce of carbolic acid at First avenue and Ferry street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and died last night at the Homeopathic hospital. The woman was despondent. She was with a friend when she took the poison. They were standing on the corner. Policeman John F. Clark saw her raise a bottle to her mouth and drink the contents. Her companion knocked the bottle from her hands and ran.

The policeman thought this act strange, and when he accosted the woman he noticed she was intoxicated. She was taken to the Central station in a patrol wagon, and when she arrived there she told Sergt. Joseph Weber she had taken poison. The woman was hurried to a hospital and died three hours afterward.

CRAP MEN SCATTERED AHEAD OF BULLETS

Crowd of "Shooters" Swooped Down on and Three Were Caught in Chase.

There was an exciting raid on a gang of crapshooters in the East End about 7:30 o'clock last night. No. 6 police station was "tipped-off" that about 50 men and boys had gathered in the rear of the Consolidated Ice Company's plant, Dennison avenue, and were carrying on a big game. The police had issued warnings against that kind of gambling, and out they went for the offenders.

The shooters, however, got a "tip-off," too, and this saved all but three of them. Specials Corbett and Frank were detailed on the case and on their way collected a squad of uniformed men. When the police arrived there was a general scattering. The players ran in the direction of the old East Liberty stock yards. The police gave chase, and on the way emptied their revolvers in the air. While running across the stockyards grounds, some of the uniformed officers fell into the excavated places that were left when the stock pens were removed, and the crowd ahead succeeded in getting a good lead by this good fortune.

Officer Frank ran down Joseph Lander, aged 18. Officer Corbett and Officer Charles Johnson captured Charles Boyle, aged 21, 5123 Penn avenue, and John Scott, colored, aged 18, of 6410 Penn avenue. The three were locked up, charged with gambling.

MURRY A. VERNER MET VON PLEHVE

Pittsburgh Capitalist Much Impressed by Several Talks With Late Russian Minister.

WAS IN FAVOR OF PROGRESS

The news of the assassination of Von Plehve, the Russian minister of the interior, was heard with regret by Murry A. Verner. A few years ago Mr. Verner and H. Sellers McKee ineffectually sought to introduce modern traction facilities into St. Petersburg.

The promoters had to negotiate first with the government and Von Plehve was the man they had to see. Mr. Verner made several voyages to the Russian capital and met Von Plehve each time. He was much impressed with the minister's qualities. He seemed to desire modern improvements and listened with interest to Mr. Verner's description of the blessings that would follow the introduction of trolley lines, installed and managed on the American plan. It has been suspected since that he chiefly wanted to acquire knowledge on the subject, without committing himself to the Pittsburgh promoters. On one trip Mr. Verner was closeted with him three days, explaining things.

The affair seemed to be progressing swimmingly, but the promoters were finally notified that the consent of some kind of board of control in St. Petersburg had to be obtained. They had hitherto supposed that Von Plehve was omnipotent in his sphere, but here they found that a bureaucratic Russia municipal counselors actually had some kind of sway.

These men made many difficulties. They would not think of granting a long-time franchise. Twenty years was the longest term, and at the expiration of that period the traction's installment, tracks, power houses, rolling stock, everything in fact, lock, stock and barrel, was to go to the municipality. Besides, the franchise was to be complicated with low fares for workmen and chevroniks, government employes, and as the population of St. Petersburg largely consists of these two classes, the investment did not look as if it could pay very liberal dividends. But the promoters were chiefly taken aback by the proposal that in 25 years the project in which they would have invested their capital should go out of their hands.

Then, too, there were restrictions about capitalization and limitations of the amount of bonds that might be issued, so that there would absolutely have been nothing attractive in the scheme to the average capitalist. It was reported here that the offer was afterward submitted by Von Plehve to a French syndicate, which looked favorably upon it, but the report cannot be verified.

Von Plehve parted from Messrs. Verner and McKee with the greatest friendliness. He expressed his regret that the old Russian of St. Petersburg could not appreciate the benefits that would have been conferred upon their city and asked the two capitalists to call again when they came to Russia.

Coleman; secretary, William H. Hart. A committee was appointed to make reports on the progress made—Samuel Milliken, chairman; James N. Brown, Jr., William Magee and John N. Dersam.

The entire Pittsburgh office equipment of the brokerage firm of Edward T. C. Slease & Co. was sold at auction yesterday by the receiver, L. C. Stone, attorney for Robert C. Morris of New York, the receiver, came to Pittsburgh to attend the sale. The Pittsburgh office is the last to be sold out, the eastern offices having been disposed of several days ago.

YIDDISH THEATER NOW PLANNED FOR PITTSBURGH

Projectors Have Optioned Site in Forbes Street, Near Pride.

Pittsburgh is likely to get a Yiddish or Jewish theater next year, if negotiations now pending succeed. A local agent who, it is said, is acting in the interest of representative Jews of this city, has secured an option on a site about 200 feet square in Forbes street, near Pride street, on which it is proposed to erect a fine building the coming season. The property is valued at from $400 to $500 a front foot and the building to be erected will cost, it is said, in the neighborhood of $100,000. A few weeks ago New York theatrical managers were conferred with and as a result the deal for the property may be closed up in a few days.

The theater planned will be built by local Jews and is expected to be finished by next summer. Several attempts have been made to provide a place of amusement of this kind, but no concentrated plan of action has been agreed upon heretofore. In other large cities the Jewish theaters are well patronized and are very profitable to the owners.

It is claimed that with the large Jewish population in Pittsburgh, a good proportion of which is located within easy distance of the proposed site, such a theater would be a money maker from the start and would fill a great want among the Jewish residents.

OBJECT TO CONDITION OF DIAMOND STREET

Portion Is Impassable, but Public Works Department Says That Was Unavoidable.

For many weeks Diamond street, in the portion that is being widened, has been in an impassable condition. Contractor M. O'Herron, who is laying the curbstones and sidewalks and is to pave the street, has been chafing under the delay. The property owners along the street object to the unsightly, green-painted poles placed on the south side of the street, five to the block, and many of them have been wondering if they were not poles on which to string wires, although there are electric wire conduits under the street.

In the office of the department of public works the conditions under which the work is being done were explained thus yesterday: When the houses on the north side of the street were set back to the new curb line it was necessary to dig the old bricks and rubbish out of the exposed cellars and fill in with solid earth. To save expense, it was decided to use the dirt taken from the streets in the neighborhood that are being repaved, and hence some delay in filling in the Diamond street cellars was caused by the necessity of waiting until the earth became available. Gas pipe and electric wire conduits and water pipes had to be laid, but could not until the man who has the contract for filling in had completed his job. He was hindered by the frequent rains of a few weeks ago, and after he was through the digging of ditches for the gas pipe and electric wire conduits was further obstructed by the rains. It is asserted that the street will soon be ready for paving with block stone.

Two of the five wooden poles for arc lights in each of the two blocks to be widened are to be taken down, leaving three arc lights to the block. The property owners say the poles are ugly, squatty things, and they think the Allegheny County Light Company should be compelled to put in iron poles. At the city hall it is asserted, however, that there is no ordinance that would force the company to erect iron poles. At present the electric wires are strung from pole to pole, but as soon as the conduits are finished the wires will be buried, to emerge from the ground only at the base of each pole.

Struck Without a Grievance.

Sixteen employes of the Citizens Ice Company struck because, it is said, a detective was following them on their trips. The union refused to support them because they had no grievance. They then demanded of the company that their foreman, Jacob Wild, be reinstated. This was refused, and the matter will be taken up at the meeting of the union next Sunday afternoon.

Accounts With Union Unsettled.

Local No. 3 of the structural iron workers, is making strenuous efforts to locate John A. Wing, formerly treasurer of the union. He left his home in Homestead last Wednesday and has not been heard of since. His accounts with the union have not been settled and the newly-elected treasurer cannot assume the duties of that office.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE CATARRH OF STOMACH AND DON'T KNOW IT.

A Beautiful Michigan Belle Cured of Catarrh of the Stomach by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Louise Matt, Battle Creek, Mich., writes:

"I can only say what others have said before me, that Peruna is a most wonderful medicine for catarrhal and stomach troubles.

"I suffered so long with indigestion and dyspepsia, and tried so many things to cure me, without relief, that I made up my mind my case was hopeless. One of my friends advised me to try Peruna for a month, assuring me that I could not fail to find from its use some relief and possibly a cure. So I took new courage and bought a bottle of Peruna, determined to give it a thorough trial, which I did. In just six weeks I was entirely rid of my stomach trouble, and bless the day when Peruna was brought to my notice."

MISS LOUISE MATT.

Catarrh of the Stomach Very Quickly Destroys Beauty.

Miss Dade Stegeman, superintendent of the Chicago North Side Women's Club of Chicago, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, speaks of Peruna as follows:

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen: "Peruna has often been used by the members of our club in cases of stomach trouble and general debility—also recently in cases of la grippe, and always with the most beneficial results. I think a great deal of Peruna—often recommended it to my friends, and am glad to say all who have tried it speak a good word for it."—Dade Stegeman.

Mrs. Jessie Colton, 439 East 19th St., New York City, writes:

"Through overwork and anxiety in my business I was very much run down; had loss of appetite, and, what was worse than that, loss of sleep at night. I was afraid I would have to consult a physician, when one of my customers advised me to try Peruna, as it had made her well and strong. I began to take it, and in a few days began to feel stronger, and from the first dose I slept at night without awakening. I took only two bottles, now I am well, but I am never without Peruna in the house. If any one wishes to call on me I will gladly advise them to take it, as I have received so much benefit from it, and want all who are ill to use it, as I did."—Mrs. Jessie Colton.

No medicine in the world has cured more cases of dyspepsia than Peruna. The reason for this is that dyspepsia in a great majority of cases depends upon catarrh of the stomach. Catarrh of the stomach may have been set up by an extension of the catarrh from the throat or head. It may be induced by late suppers, indigestible diet, rapid eating, drinking ice water, the use of alcoholic stimulants and many other indiscretions.

Peruna cures all such cases of dyspepsia, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. The reason so many cases of dyspepsia suffer on and on without any relief, trying this medicine and that medicine, is that these conditions are not recognized as catarrh of the stomach.

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh Wherever Located.

Anyone suffering from dyspepsia, having tried the ordinary remedies without relief, would be safe to assume that their cases is one of catarrh of the stomach, and should at once begin a course of Peruna. Peruna is sure to cure these cases. It never fails.

Thousands of Pe-ru-na Testimonials on File.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited indorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS HOLD UP MEASURE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., July 29.—The calling up of the Campbell resolution in the senate today was the occasion for the first real fight on the compromise tax measures. The resolution provided for the passage of original bills taxing coal, oil and gas instead of the compromise measures as agreed upon at the Washington conference of Republican leaders. The Democrats voted solidly for the resolution and five members of the majority, Hartner, Code, Darste, Foreman and Horan, supported it, but it was defeated by an overwhelming majority, the Republicans outnumbering the Democrats five to one. During the debate Cornwell, Democrat, took occasion to score Mr. Dawson, the Republican candidate for governor, whom he said made his campaign on the tax reform issue, claiming to be in favor of placing a tax on coal, oil and gas, but later when nominated, dodging behind the compromise measures to gain the influence of corporations.

The Democrats in the house prevented the passage of the proposed constitutional amendment, providing that the state and school taxes may be removed without working a forfeiture of property. The effort of the minority will prove effective in this measure, since it will require several Democratic votes to make up the necessary two-thirds majority, and they propose to hold up the measure until the majority agrees to certain concessions.

TWO MEN ACCUSED OF SWINDLING FARMERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., July 29.—Harry Pierce and W. L. Davis, two young men registering at a local hotel from Cleveland, O., were arrested today charged by a druggist with obtaining money under false pretense, and scores of confiding folk living in the rural districts will learn that they have been victims of a brace game in buying from smooth-tongued agents bottles of strange-looking stuff labeled "sarsaparilla" and "liniment." It is alleged that the men bought empty bottles here and put up a decoction of water, drugs and coloring matter and then sold it for sarsaparilla, Carbon oil, colored, was palmed off on the unsuspecting as "family liniment." It is understood that they fairly coined money and that when they were arrested just as they were leaving town, their pockets were bulging with greenbacks.

JUDGE DOTY TO DECIDE INTENT OF MINING LAW

Inspector Orders More Fire Bosses Employed, to Which Coal Company Objects.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., July 29.—An interesting contest is being fought between Mine Inspector F. W. Cunningham and the Westmoreland Coal Company, a report of which will be made to Judge Lucien W. Doty of the Westmoreland county courts tomorrow. The question involved is the interpretation of the mine law passed by the legislature in 1903. The Westmoreland Coal Company employs 600 men at its Export mine. The mine is a drift and electrical machines are used. No gas has been found recently and only one fire boss has been employed.

Inspector Cunningham ordered that this force be increased. It was claimed by him that in every mine in which explosive gas and fire damp had been generated within a period of six months preceding the passage of the act, all the workings should be examined by a competent person employed for that purpose. The inspector held that it was a physical impossibility for one fire boss to perform this work, and ordered the employment of four additional men. The company appealed, and a commission was appointed to investigate the mine. Gas was found in a blind room. It was unanimously recommended that "the company should put on fire bosses sufficient to examine the workings before each shift goes to work." The result of the proceeding is anxiously awaited, as other Westmoreland county coal operators, it is believed, will be affected.

Husband of Child Pleads Guilty.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—George F. Tibble, who yesterday afternoon married 14-year-old Margaret Flannagan, was this evening taken to jail at Uniontown, having pleaded guilty to a charge of false pretense. At the hearing it developed that the pair requested the magistrate to marry them without a license and upon his refusal made out an application and swore to it. They were accompanied to the magistrate's office by a relative of the girl. Tibble will fight the case. The charge will in all probability be changed to enticing a minor child for the purpose of marriage. His wife says she will wait for him until he is free.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—The Blair county director of the poor today awarded a contract to P. W. Finn for the erection of a hospital for the insane at $129,026. BANK RECEIVER ENDS LIFE IN THE RIVER

Received Threatening Letters. Leaves Note Declaring His Innocence of Wrong Doing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, O., July 29.—The body of Receiver W. G. Taefel of the Newark Savings bank, manager of the Citizens Light and Power Company and supreme secretary of the American Insurance union, was found today in the north fork of the Licking river.

Mr. Taefel had been receiving threatening letters for alleged delay in settling the bank's affairs and in making his report as receiver and this is supposed to have preyed upon his mind. He left a note saying: "I am absolutely innocent of any trouble at the Newark Savings bank. Every dollar I have on earth is gone; I must end this misery. Goodby, my dear family."

Mr. Taefel was supreme secretary of the American Protective union and recently borrowed $5,000 to be used as a reserve fund. He put up his last security, as he said, to get this money. He came here from Cumberland, Md., where he was born. He was at one time foreman of the Baltimore & Ohio machine shops here, but later became secretary and general manager of the Citizens' Electric Light and Power Company. He was 45 years old and leaves a widow and four children. He was a prominent Mason.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., July 29.—A. J. Surface, cashier of the Liberty bank which suspended at West Liberty Thursday evening, is in a critical condition from nervous prostration at the home of a relative. Assignee L. E. Baldwin estimates the assets at $14,000 and liabilities at $12,000. Some of the creditors are endeavoring to force Surface into involuntary bankruptcy.

Steel Plants Sold to Eastern Man.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—The New Castle and Ellwood City plants of the Cuyahoga Steel and Wire Company have been sold, the deed having been placed on record today. The purchaser is Charles Ward of New York city, who is supposed to represent an eastern manufacturing firm. The price is not made public, but a mortgage of $450,000 given by the Cuyahoga company to the Title and Trust Company of America is assumed by the buyer as a part of the purchase price. The properties consist of the old Hartman wire plant of this city and 10 acres of land here and the Hartman plant and a large tract of land at Ellwood City.

TURNKEY IS ASSAULTED, FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPE

Posse Searching Mountains for Them—Skull of Keeper May Be Fractured.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BELLEFONTE, PA., July 29.—After assaulting Turnkey Jerry Condo, four desperate prisoners escaped from the county jail tonight. Turnkey Condo went into the jail corridor to lock the prisoners up for the night. The four men had hidden in the bath room, just inside the main entrance, and as Condo stepped inside and turned to lock the door, one of the prisoners, George Henderson, who was in for robbery, jumped out of the bath room and with a bar of iron struck Condo two blows on the head, cutting the scalp open from ear to ear and knocking him senseless. Four of the inmates then walked out and fled to the mountains.

Those who escaped are George Henderson, for burglary; William Green, for stealing a watch; Dominick Constance, for arson, and William Green of Tyrone. It is not known yet how badly Condo was hurt, but it is feared his skull is fractured. Deputy Sheriff Jackson has organized a posse of men who are scouring the mountains for the escaped prisoners, while word has been sent throughout this and nearby counties. Sheriff Taylor is at the encampment at Gettysburg.

Clearfield Celebration Ends.

CLEARFIELD, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—The county centennial closed today. The firemen's parade in the morning was a feature, hundreds of uniformed men being in line. Grampan won the band contest, with Houtzdale second, Munson third, Burnside fourth and Osceola fifth. In the firemen's event the hub and hub race, Windber won, running 200 yards in 21¼ seconds, Hope of Philipsburg was second and the City engine company of Dubois third. The free-for-all race, held over from yesterday, was won by Lady Rodmon with Eagle Prince second and Moral third. A brilliant display of fireworks was given tonight.

STREET CAR STRIKES AUTO, TWO PERSONS ARE KILLED

Pittsburgh Preacher Arrested.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 29.—(Special.)—The Rev. John Pryor of Pittsburgh, who was assisting in a series of revival meetings at the Mt. Olivet colored Baptist church of Uniontown, was arrested by C. H. Tyler, a colored constable from Pittsburgh, on a charge of desertion and wife-beating and taken back to Pittsburgh.

CALLS NEW YORK STRIKE

point a committee to call on the officials of the Union Stock Yards Company tomorrow morning, to request a cessation of the handling of live stock for the packers whose forces are on strike. The advisability of accepting the offer of the freight handlers to join the strike was considered at the meeting, but no decision was reached.

Following the arrest of George Golden, chief of the packing teamsters' union, for picketing, riots became more frequent in the vicinity of the stock yards this afternoon. Although the strikers and their friends became very boisterous when it became known that Golden had been arrested and made all sorts of threats, no one was seriously injured in any of the many disturbances that occurred.

Golden discovered a wagon owned by Terry & Co. being driven past his office. Putting his head out of the window he called to the teamster:

"Where are you going?"

"Anywhere I please so long as I attend to my own business," was the reply, whereupon Golden ordered the driver to turn back.

Inspector Hunt heard the command and threatened the teamster, telling him to go on about his business. Then came a war of words, Golden paying his compliments to the inspector. Hunt, shaking his club at the strike leader, declared there would be an immediate arrest if Golden did not "shut up." He did not "shut up," so the inspector shut him up, constructively at least, at the station.

The arrest caused intense excitement, and within two minutes several thousand men had gathered to watch the proceedings.

"This is an outrage," declared Golden. "I have been guilty of no offense against the law, yet I am taken like a common criminal. I shall see whether a high and mighty inspector of police is more high and mighty than the rights of a citizen."

Golden was in a cell nearly two hours before Inspector Hunt relented. He was then released on bonds of $300 signed by Nicholas Gler, president of the local butchers' union. Golden was liberated only on condition that he remain away from labor headquarters until after his hearing tomorrow morning.

More business was done today by the packers than at any time since the strike began. With today's additions to the new employes obtained from outside sources, the statement was made tonight by one of the packers that 18,000 men are at work in the seven plants where the union men are on strike. This is nearly half as many men as went on strike. The packers declare that they have more unskilled labor than they want, and that when all the skilled labor which they procured in other cities reaches Chicago all the by-product plants will open for operation.

LEADING OHIO DEMOCRAT BECOMES A REPUBLICAN

Joseph M. Blake, Lawyer and Politician, Declines Place on Election Board.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CANTON, O., July 29.—Joseph M. Blake, one of the best known and most active young Democrats of Canton, has renounced the Democratic party and declared himself a Republican. He was regarded as one of the probable Democratic members of the board of deputy supervisors of election, having been indorsed by one faction of the party in this county. Replying to a letter from the secretary of state on this subject, he said: "Your favor of the 27th inst. in the matter of the appointment of a Democratic member of the board of deputy state supervisors of election for Stark county is at hand. Although I have always up to this time been a member of the Democratic party, I have decided to hereafter support the Republican party and cannot, with justice to my old party or myself, accept an appointment as a Democratic member of the board."

WOMAN SAVED A TRAIN WITH RED TABLE COVER

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 29.—(Special.)—A woman running up the New York Central railroad track and waving a red table cover in the midst of a terrific storm of wind, rain, thunder and lightning saved a fast passenger train from being wrecked by a tree that had blown across the track. The woman was Mrs. James McKenna, wife of a paperhanger, who lives in a modest home on the bank of the railroad two miles north of this city.

SPRING GARDEN RUN FATHERS SETTLE FOR SONS' MISDEEDS

Ten small boys, with the tops of their head barely visible above the brass railing separating them from Magistrate Abernathey, stood in suspense yesterday afternoon in the police court of Allegheny Central station waiting to hear their doom. The lads were accused of entering the Seventh ward school building last Saturday and committing deeds of vandalism.

The parents of all the boys were there, and the mothers had brought all the other children, including infants in arms. The school board came in a body, wearing grave looks that created a chill in the hearts of the small culprits. The latter were dressed in the Sunday garments, which they wore with an air of discomfort.

A conference was arranged between the fathers of the boys and the school board. When it was over one of the directors announced: "The case is settled. The fathers pay the costs and give the school board $50. Each parent pays $5." Thus was the case settled and Magistrate Abernathey dismissed the lads. Back to the run the small army took its way, scorning street cars, despite the distance.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS TO WRECK POLICE STATION

On being confined in the woman's department at the Forty-third street police station last night, having been arrested for disorderly conduct, Mollie Borden, a former prominent music teacher in Lawrenceville, made matters lively by smashing the furniture. She upset beds and chairs and yelled like an Indian. Sergt. E. S. Logan decided to place her in a cell in the men's department, and it required the combined efforts of four policemen to carry out the order. When the woman found nothing in the cell to break she settled down for the night and amused herself by singing hymns.

MAYOR M'CLELLAN GOES TO SEE PARKER

Politics Were Discussed in a General Way at the Candidate's Home.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ESOPUS, N. Y., July 29.—Mayor George B. McClellan of New York spent an hour with Judge Parker this afternoon. It was announced that the call was informal and that politics was discussed only in a general way. The mayor was accompanied by Corporation Counsel John J. Delaney, John Pierce and John B. McDonald, all of New York. The party made the trip from New York on the yacht Sapphire. When Mayor McClellan left here he promised Judge Parker he would return as soon as he could conveniently leave his municipal duties.

The Mormon question was taken up with Judge Parker today by Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho. The senator was chairman of the Idaho delegation at the St. Louis convention. The delegation was instructed for W. R. Hearst, but Senator Dubois announced a change of vote before the result of the first ballot could be announced.

Judge Parker was so much interested in the political conditions in western states that he did not give Senator Dubois an opportunity to broach his mission until the arrival of Mayor McClelland and his party. After the New York party left Rosemount the senator asked Judge Parker to take up the Mormon question, as set forth in the Democratic platform, in his letter of acceptance of the Democratic nomination. Judge Parker exhibited interest in the subject and promised to make it a study before closing his letter.

MORNINGSIDE ANGRY.

The Residents Hold Indignation Meeting and Will Remonstrate Against Bad Streets.

Residents of the Morningside district, Eighteenth ward, held an indignation meeting last night to protest against the condition of the streets. Morningside road, the only thoroughfare to Butler street, and Chislett street, at the southern end of the valley. A committee was appointed to draft a remonstance to the mayor and Director Bigelow, and another meeting will be held on Monday night, when the remonstrance will be submitted for approval. At that meeting a larger committee will be named to wait upon the city administration.

The meeting was held in the Morningside school. J. C. Unverzagt was made chairman and Alexander Young secretary. Indignant speeches were made, this being the burden of complaint:

The district is practically inaccessible because of deep caye-ins in the streets, caused by ineffient laying of water mains, particularly of the 36-inch main from the new reservoir in Highland park. Because of the bad streets fire engines cannot enter the district and there is danger of a conflagration. Teamsters make extra charge for hauling over the Morningside streets, and merchants and private families are thereby put to much additional expense.

The following committee will prepare the remonstrance: Alexander Young, Edward Stiehler, G. C. Blehsing, Frank H. Walton, Frederick E. Exil and Charles Perrott.

GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis at Exposition Park (2 games.)
Philadelphia at New York.
Cincinnati at Chicago.
Boston at Brooklyn.

Had the Pirates played the kind of baseball they are capable of they would have scored an easy double victory over the Cardinals yesterday, but they went to pieces in the second contest and the visitors walked off with the plum, which took ten innings for them to win. The first game was a 10 to 1 Pirate victory and the second went to the other fellows 8 to 5.

There was another large turnout of baseball bargain hunters and 5,640 people sat all afternoon and watched the players. The first game had a pleasing ending, but it was different with the second and the partisans went home in an unpleasant frame of mind. The first game is practically a walkover for Patsy Flaherty, whose pitching and batting were the real features of the contest. Flaherty was in great pitching form and had the Cardinals at his mercy all the way, allowing them only five scattering hits and would have shut them out but for a slip up by Ritchey in the seventh inning.

Flaherty not only pitched in fine style, but he was there with his little bat and the way he banged the ball about the field was a caution to the hard heartbreaking to "Brother Joe" Corbett, who was doing the pitching for the Cardinals. Out of four times at bat Patsy had three hits, two singles and a three bagger, and on his fourth time Corbett was tired pitching him slug the ball and sent him to base, so that he had a clean batting average for the afternoon. The beauty about Flaherty's hits was that one scored a run, and Ritchey was the man that brought the last one home. The game was a pitchers' battle until the sixth inning when the Pirates solved the puzzlers being served by Corbett, and when they got through the inning they had scored eight runs as a result of seven good solid hits and an error by Mike Grady.

The second game was the one where the crowd had its fun, and there was plenty of excitement all the way. On the first ball pitched in the game there was a foul which caught Umpire Emslie on the left forearm and injured him so painfully that he was forced to retire. There was a long delay while the matter of an umpire was being debated, finally Carisch was decided to use two players, the selections being O'Neil of the Cardinals, who judged the balls and strikes, and Leever, who looked after the base decisions, and to the credit of both it must be said that they did a very good job. There were a number of places where either one could have favored his team, but no advantage was taken.

In the second inning of this game Wagner developed a sore arm and traded places with Ritchey, and each showed will in the strange positions. Case was called on to pitch this game for the local team, and as usual he pitched well, but he should have had better support been as good as his pitching. A wild throw by Wagner in the second inning paved the way for two of the Cardinals' runs, and a fumble by Leach in the eighth was in a large measure responsible for three more. Case was rather rough on a pitcher who was showing good work under trying conditions, having an inexperienced umpire to judge the balls and strikes.

The real excitement of this contest took place in the ninth inning when the Pirates tied the score. The call when the locals' half of the ninth was reached was 5 to 3 in the visitors' favor, and some of the spectators gave it up as lost and went home. Ritchey, however, opened the ninth with a single, but was forced at second by Ritchey. Carisch managed to work in a single and Lynch was sent in to bat for Case, but he struck out. Leach then beat out a infield bounder and the bases were filled with Beaumont at bat. "Beau" swung with all his strength at the first two balls pitched, but they were fouls and on the next pitch he drove the ball down at Beckley, who was top of first base. Beckley stalled, made the toss to McFarland, who run over to cover the base, but the toss was a bad one, the ball rolling half way to the grand stand, allowing Ritchey and Carisch to score the runs that tied the score.

While these runs were being scored Tommy Leach ran to third and at Wagner's call started for home. In the meantime Beckley recovered the ball and rushed for the plate to head off Leach, but in doing so Leach and Wagner was purposely in his way to help Leach score. Beckley managed to dodge past Wagner and as Leach made the step for the plate Beckley made a punch at him with the ball. But the big Baumont's blow caught the little Pirate on a tender part of the body and put him down and out for at least five minutes. It may have been that Beckley was excited and did not realize the force of his blow, but the spectators seemed to think that he did, and he was hissed and hooted and called all manner of names.

Lynch, who batted for Case in the ninth, went in to pitch the tenth inning for the Pirates, but he had not been warmed up and the result was that the Cardinals landed on his delivery for two singles and two two-base hits, and these with a base on balls brought them the three runs which won the game. For the benefit of the readers who keep a close watch on the games, it is stated that the credit for the loss of the game goes to Lynch, as the score was a tie when he went in to pitch. The scores:

TWO MORE PIRATES ON THE HOSPITAL LIST

Harry Smith's Arm Thrown Out of Socket and Wagner Has Rheumatism.

President Dreyfuss of the Pirates was a disgusted man last night, as his ball team has gone to pieces and he doubts that he will have enough sound players to place a full team in the field for today's doubleheader with the Cardinals.

The latest addition to the hospital list is Catcher Harry Smith, who during the preliminary practice yesterday threw his right arm out of its socket and while he may come around all right in a day or so, yet he may be forced to stay out for an indefinite period. This is most unfortunate, as Smith was doing the best work of any catcher in the league, and his services were badly needed, as Phelps is still unable to play. Wagner is also ailing, having rheumatism in his right arm, which forced him to change places with Ritchey yesterday.

The club owner was very indignant at the action of Jake Beckley in dealing Tommy Leach that blow which almost put the little Pirate out of the business. Dreyfuss admits that Beckley may have lost his head in the excitement and been angry over making a wild throw that allowed the Pirates to tie the score in the ninth, but there was no reason why he should have put so much force into the touchout when he could have accomplished the play without the least trouble. He says that had any one of the Pirates attempted such a trick the whole team would have been mobbed for it.

He was also indignant at what he termed the unfair actions of O'Neil, who umpired back of the bat in the second game. Dreyfuss says that he counted after the third inning seven strikes that were called on Pirate batsmen, while but four were called on the Cardinals. After the game Pitcher Case complained and said that O'Neil missed at least twenty-five strikes that he pitched over the plate.

The club owner said last night that while the team is in miserable playing shape there is no hope for any relief, as it is impossible to secure players to fill their places. He has tried to secure players, but finds he cannot get the class of men needed. It was stated last night that Tom Stankard, the Bald Cross college star, who was here on trial, had been let out and will probably be found with the Jersey City team of the Eastern league. Stankard had not signed a contract with the local team, but was merely here on trial.

CONCORD CHURCH GOT A NEW ORGAN THROUGH ENTERPRISING YOUNG MEN

Justin Fierst, Solicitor. | William H. Jolly, Treasurer. | Harry R. Donnally, Vice President. | Harry E. Rosser, President. | Robert Schneider, Secretary.

They Formed a Pipe Organ Company.

The new borough of Carrick, not yet a month old, is already taking on the airs of a big town. Tomorrow will witness the dedication of a handsome pipe organ in the Concord Presbyterian church, the Rev. Austin H. Jolly pastor. Incidentally, the opening of the new instrument will mark the seventy-second anniversary of the church organization, the history of which has been somewhat checkered.

The new organ was procured in a novel manner. It was not through the elders or the trustees, or a few rich men with large contributions. A group of enterprising young men discovered a new way of doing an old thing. They organized what they were pleased to call "The Concord Pipe Organ Company" with a capital stock of $1,500. Each young man of the church was a director of the company; they met once a week, laid plans for "floating the stock," issued a handsome certificate, which set forth that the holder was entitled to a certain number of shares of the stock, fully paid and non-assessable, par value 50 cents a share, and entitling the bearer to "the weekly dividends of the company, payable at the church every Sabbath." This certificate was signed by the following officers of the company: Harry E. Rosser, with the Schuette Lumber Company, president; Robert R. Donnally of the Iron and Glass Dollar Savings bank, vice president; Robert A. Schneider, civil engineer, secretary; William H. Jolly, Peoples National bank, treasurer; Justin Fierst, solicitor.

The young men did not fail to offer their stock to Andrew Carnegie, and, as a shrewd business man, he considered it a good investment, and took quite a block. But the larger portion of the stock was taken by local subscribers, who expect to receive weekly dividends in the "notes" of the organ.

The young men have had a good time while they were developing their plans, but they meant business from the first, and by applying business principles to church work they have succeeded in securing an instrument of which the community is justly proud.

STEEL CORPORATION BUYS A WIRE PLANT

Property of the Trenton Iron Company Is Transferred for $480,000.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—The United States Steel Corporation has bought the wire plant of the Trenton Iron Company at Trenton, N. J., and has paid for it with second mortgage 5 per cent bonds. The exact terms were not made public today, but it was understood that the amount paid was $480,000. The negotiations for the purchase were handled for the steel corporation by its officers and for the Trenton company by Erskine Hewitt and James D. Greene.

The Trenton company was organized by special act of the legislature in 1847 and its original incorporators were Peter Cooper, James Hall, Edward Cooper and Abram S. Hewitt. According to its last reports, under date of September 17, 1903, the company's president was Edward Cooper, its treasurer Charles E. Hewitt and its secretary Eagleton Hanson. The directors were Edward Cooper, Charles E. Hewitt, Edwin F. Bedell, Erskine Hewitt and Lloyd S. Bryce. The authorized capital stock of the company is $2,000,000, but the amount issued and outstanding is $900,000.

The purchase was made by the steel corporation for the American Steel and Wire Company, which owns and operates the plant. The American Bridge Company, which is also a subsidiary company of the steel corporation, has for some time owned the structural steel plant, the bolt and nut works, the rolling mills and steel works formerly operated by the New Jersey Steel and Iron Company.

CORONER INVESTIGATING DEATH OF A SOLDIER

Young Woman Who Was With Private Hammett Appears at the Hearing.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Coroner O'Gorman this afternoon made considerable progress in an investigation into the death of James T. Hammett, a private in the Eighteenth coast artillery, stationed at Fort Schuyler, whose body was found floating face downward in West Chester creek. Six privates, in charge of Lieut. Thompson, were taken to the coroner's office, and they soon were joined by Mrs. Emma Chase, the young woman with whom Hammett was drinking in West Chester last Monday night when he was last seen alive. The other witness was Capt. Alexander Adramhammer of the scow Pilot.

Capt. Adramhammer told the coroner that late Monday night, while his scow was tied up in West Chester creek, a man came aboard. In the darkness he could not tell whether or not he were a uniform. He ordered the man off the scow and a moment later, after hearing a splash, he saw a man swimming toward the shore.

No stone will be left unturned by the police and the coroner to land the guilty person in jail. Hammett was evidently stabbed by a man who was acting in the heat of passion. He made a wound 14 inches deep and an inch and three-quarters wide, breaking two ribs on the left side near the heart. The soldier could not have lived more than a few minutes after receiving the wound.

THIS SHOOTING MYSTERIOUS.

Its Victim is Young Man Who Refuses to Give His Name.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The police are investigating a mysterious shooting affair, the victim of which is a well-dressed young man who was found severely wounded in Central park today. He refused to give his name, and tonight lies in a hospital in a precarious condition.

When picked up in the parks the young man gave the name of Frederick Courtney, at the same time saying it was fictitious. Soon afterward he dispatched a note to Mrs. E. W. Dignon, a young widow registered at the Martha Washington hotel, from Philadelphia. In this note he told the young woman that he was shot, and asked her to tell his employer that he had been called away. He besought her to keep his name secret. Soon afterward a lawyer, representing Mrs. Dignon, called at the hospital. He told the newspaper men there that the young man is of good standing, but refused to give his name.

Italian Catholics Buy a Church.

The congregation of St. Mary of Mt. Carmel Italian Catholic church, Braddock, yesterday purchased the Methodist Protestant church building at Sixth street and Margaretta avenue for $14,000. The lot is 50x100 feet. The church is a frame structure and was erected five years ago. The Italian congregation was organized three years ago and has been holding services in St. Joseph's German Catholic church, Braddock. The Methodist Protestant congregation will purchase a site and erect a new church.

Leaking Mains Annoying.

Business men of Carson street are complaining of the condition of the pavement, in places there are stagnant pools of water, said to come from leaking mains of the Monongahela Water Company. The water also runs into cellars. The bureau of health was appealed to some time ago, and now the water company is patching the mains. The worst conditions prevail between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

Former Leetsdale Man Hurt.

W. T. Reed of Leetsdale yesterday received word that his son, Harry R. Reed, was fatally injured at Bloomfield, W. Va., Thursday by a fall of 90 feet from the top of an oil derrick.

MONEY IS A DRUG IN WALL STREET MARKET

The Brokers Offer Drinks and Cigars as Inducements to Borrowers.

NEW YORK, July 29.—One of the prominent members of the stock exchange adopted a new method to aid in placing money today, giving to every broker who borrowed $100,000 on call at 1 per cent an order for a drink and a cigar at a cafe opposite the New street entrance of the exchange. He placed about $1,400,000 on these terms, and then had a balance of over $1,600,000, which even the extra inducements could not bring in borrowers for.

The stock exchange has been suffering from a glut of money for several months and every day brokers are compelled to return unexecuted orders to lend large amounts of money, for which no borrowers could be found. At one time today the supply of money on the floor of the exchange was so large that some loans were made as low as ½ of 1 per cent per annum, but as soon as these loans were made the rate was made 1 per cent again and money closed at that rate.

TROLLEY HIT BY TRAIN; A SCORE ARE INJURED

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Six persons were seriously hurt and a dozen slightly injured in a collision this afternoon between a trolley car and a train of the Brighton Beach railroad at a crossing at Railroad avenue and West Fifth street, Coney Island. The trolley car was struck squarely in the center by the train and thrown 20 feet off the track, the passengers being thrown in a heap.

As Devine, the motorman of the car, approached the crossing, at which there is no flagman and which is considered dangerous, he failed to see the Brighton Beach train which was going toward the terminal at the island. He slowed up for a minute, and thinking all safe put on the power again. Before he had time to shut off, however, he saw too late the train coming at a rapid rate of speed. Just as the car reached the center of the crossing the train struck it. So great was the force of the collision that the car was hurled off the track and upon the sidewalk. The car was smashed almost to kindling wood, and it was thought at first that many of the passengers had been killed.

DIVIDENDS HELD UP BY NORTHERN SECURITIES

Court Refuses to Permit Distribution of Stocks and Moneys.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILMINGTON, DEL., July 29.—Judge Bradford in federal court this afternoon refused to frame the decree for a temporary injunction in the Northern Securities case so as to permit the company to pay its dividends and distribute stocks and moneys other than those now involved in the pending suits. Recently Judge Bradford rendered an opinion in the case of Harriman et al. and the Oregon Short Line Railway Company, restraining the Northern Securities Company from distributing the assets as planned until argument of all interests could be heard and a final decision rendered.

A decree for the temporary injunction must be issued and today attorneys, including former Secretary Elihu Root and F. L. Stetson, representing the company, and Maxwell W. Elliott, R. R. Levitt and H. L. Landabury, counsel for other interests, appeared before the court in regard to the decree. Mr. Root asked that the decree be so framed that dividends could be paid and said if this were not done many people would be deprived of their income. Mr. Root insisted that there was ample money on hand to protect those who had brought the suit after the dividend is paid and that the decree should involve only the stock in controversy.

Judge Bradford replied that for the court to make such a ruling would be to decide the merits of the case at this time.

Rag Dolls Created Thirst.

"Every time I buy a doll I get drunk," acknowledged Charles S. Crawford, aged 40, of Woodville avenue, to Magistrate Vitchestain in the South Side police station yesterday morning. Crawford had been arrested the night before. Displaying a neatly attired rag doll, the prisoner explained that it was for his little daughter, and declared that upon every occasion his heart was moved to provide a rag baby for the girl he indulged too freely. He was discharged with instructions to turn the doll supply department over to other members of his family.

Family Escaped Through Flames.

Fire almost totally destroyed the building and stock of Isaac Glantz, a furniture dealer at 1818 Beaver avenue, Allegheny, at 6:15 yesterday morning. The blaze was discovered by Miss Flora Glantz. She aroused the family which escaped by running through the flames to the front door. Firemen prevented the flames from spreading to adjacent buildings. Loss, $8,000; insurance, $3,000.

SOCIETY

A LARGE family party summering at North East on the shores of Lake Erie includes the several families comprising the family connection of the Closes and Johns in Oakland. They have a cottage there which is always filled with a large party, though some of the members of the different families are compelled, because of business, to spend an occasional week in the city. The cottage was opened in June and in the party are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Close of Terrace avenue, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Johns and their children, Clarence Close, Mrs. Fawcett and her children, Charles F. Close and Mrs. Mary E. Lemmon and her daughter, Miss May Elizabeth Lemmon. Tomorrow Clifton F. Close and Howard Close will go to North East to stay during the coming week.

The cottage will be closed in September and in October it is expected the wedding of Miss May Lemmon and Clifton F. Close will take place. Their engagement was announced in the spring. Miss Lemmon is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Lemmon of Locust street, Allegheny, and the late Walter Read Lemmon, who for years was prominent on the North Side. Mr. Close is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Close and is a graduate of Cornell university and of the University of Pennsylvania. The wedding will be one of the pretty events of the early fall.

Flowers Distributed at the Playgrounds.

Seven thousand small bouquets were eagerly grasped by as many little hands yesterday morning as the children marched decorously out of the summer playgrounds and vacations schools. From 8 o'clock until 10 minutes of 12 the members of the flower committee, under the direction of their chairman, Miss Eliza D. Armstrong, worked rapidly and almost silently in the long gymnasium of the Central Young Women's Christian association in Fifth street, preparing the small bouquets from the great profusion of flowers and packing them in the baskets to be carried to the playgrounds, the small boys who acted as messengers, eagerly assisting in every detail of the work, from cutting the threads, arranging the flowers, tying the bouquets and placing them in the baskets, and then scurrying off to reach the playgrounds before the children were dismissed.

Ten large baskets filled with flowers already made into bouquets came from Sewickley, where a bevy of women under the leadership of Mrs. Wallace J. Tener met the previous day to arrange them. A basket was also sent from Elizabeth directly to the South Side Recreation park. The distribution was approximately as follows: 750 bouquets sent to the South Side Recreation park; besides the 125 received from Elizabeth; 185 to Washington park; 175, Riverside school; 375, Larimer Avenue; 200, Minersville; 200, Sherman Avenue school, Allegheny; 500, Soho; 275, Grant; 450, Fortieth Street; 475, Forbes school; 285, Columbian Council school; 275, Irwin Avenue school, Allegheny, and in the ward schools of Allegheny, 450 to the Third ward; 180, Fourth ward; 200, Fifth ward; 180, Eighth ward; and 350, Twelfth ward. Three hundred bouquets for the Wickersham school were provided by Mrs. W. A. Conner of the Kenmawr.

The Sewickley women whose contributions were received yesterday were Mrs. Wallace J. Tener, Mrs. George P. Rose, Miss Sara Rose, Mrs. Robert Wardrop, Miss Isabell Wardrop, Mrs. James Cooper, Miss Patty Neale, Mrs. Frank McCleery, Mrs. Henry Buhl, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. S. W. Black, Mrs. G. P. Brazen, Mrs. E. A. Woods, Miss Anna Wallace, Miss Agnes Black, Mrs. A. E. Allen, Miss Katherine Harlow, Miss Edna Agnew, Mrs. Carrie Hayes, Miss Gertrude Negley, Mrs. Frederick Hayes, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Arthur B. Starr, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Jennings, Miss Esther Reno, Miss Wheeler, Miss Mattie Sterling, Miss Crosby, Miss Blanche K. Herschberger, Mrs. Culley, Fred McCleery and the Rev. W. O. Campbell.

Among the Pittsburgh contributors, in addition to the florists, were Miss Martha Childs, Mrs. E. H. Utley, Mrs. William S. Powers, Boyd Vincent Imbrie, Miss Minerva Crooks, Miss Martha Stiles, Miss Lucy Koethen, Mrs. D. M. Clemson, Mrs. William Henry Schoen, Mrs. Robert Pitcairn, Mrs. George Westinghouse, Mrs. W. E. Lincoln, Mrs. Alexander King, Mrs. William Flinn, Mrs. Kaufmann, Mrs. H. C. Shaw of Glenshaw, Mrs. D. P. Black, Mrs. W. F. Abel, Mrs. A. L. Sailor and Mrs. Martha Boyd.

The flower committee is anxious to give a little large bouquet to each of the children next Friday, which will be the last flower day and the closing day of the summer playgrounds and vacation schools. There will be no treat this year in the different playgrounds, as there is no money for that purpose.

Swimming Party in Braddock.

For the benefit of those who are unable to spend the summer at a fashionable watering place, Librarian George H. Lamb of the Braddock Carnegie library gave permission for a swimming party which was held at the Carnegie club pool last Thursday night. The members of the women's swimming classes who are married were accompanied by their husbands and 30 couples were present. Refreshments were served at the library. A series of similar affairs will be given in the future. The Braddock pool is visited every week by women from the East End and Wilkinsburg.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 29.—(Special.)—The subject of missions has been so thoroughly discussed at Chautauqua this week by experienced men in the various fields of mission work that great interest has necessarily been aroused in the subject. Bishop W. F. Oldham spoke on the "Greatest Need in Missions," which is not only more missionaries who are clever, able men, but more universal interest in the subject, and consequently more money. At a later hour S. L. Josli lectured on "Economic Conditions in India," in which he gave a number of facts in regard to the famine, plague and sufferings of the people of India.

An interesting meeting was held at the Chautauqua National Council of Superintendents and Principals and was presided over by Miss Grace Swan of Allegheny, principal of the Twelfth ward school. The subject was "School Punishments." Miss Swan said she supposed she had been asked to speak on this subject on account of her experience in punishment, but whether for past or future sins she could not say. Mrs. Harriet Kemp of Allegheny opened the discussion by telling of a number of punishments in which she did not believe, and her remarks were followed by those of representatives from seven states.

Mrs. Emily Bishop of New York had her usual large audience this afternoon, when she lectured on "The Line of Least Resistance" and said: "Neither unrestricted self-indulgence nor the other extreme, war on all inclinations, is the proper way of living. We live our highest and our best when we live on the line of least resistance. Relax mentally and physically and you will live easiest. A very simple rule of Delsarte is, drop the jaw and relax, look stupid, and it will be impossible to be strung up to a high nervous pitch. Try it and see."

Prof. J. A. Jackson gave a practical lecture on "Life Insurance as a Science and a Profession."

Great interest was shown by the large audience which attended the reading of Wagner's music drama "Parsifal," by Mrs. Sterling Baker. Music was furnished by the orchestra and by William Sherwood, pianist, and Solomon Marcosson, violinist.

ADVOCATES LARGER CARS.

These, With Third Man in Crew, Would Relieve New York's Crush.

NEW YORK, July 29.—(Special.)—Offering plans to relieve the present crowded and unsanitary conditions of the public lines of transportation in this city, eminent civil engineers met the state railroad commission at a public hearing today in the Whitehall building.

Samuel Whinery, chairman of the committee, advocated larger cars, especially on the Broadway lines.

Whinery stated that in his belief cars seating 28 passengers on each side and in length 48 feet, could be handled on Broadway and all longitudinal lines on Manhattan island, and when the work of the conductor was supplemented by another helper, whose sole duty during the rush would be to signal for the stopping and starting of the car, the carrying capacity of the lines would be largely increased.

Young Athlete Had a Bad Fall.

While playing in Recreation park, South Ninth and Carson streets last evening, Albert McFisker, 12 years old, of 1916 Larkins street, Allegheny, had his right wrist broken. He was on a pair of swinging rings when he fell.

A woman worn-out, who never has to lift a hand for herself, who does not know the meaning of the word "worry"! How can it be possible? That it is possible is proved by the experience of many a woman who, because of sleeplessness, nervousness, backache and other womanly ills, becomes an utter physical wreck.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I suffered for five years with inflammation which caused violent pain and often torture so bad at times that I could not be about to attend to my daily duties," writes Mrs. Julius C. Bell, of Bathroad, Kingston, Ont. "Life was simply misery to me and I did not know which way to turn for relief. Had tried doctors but found they did not help me. My druggist advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—eulogizing it in glowing terms. I decided to give it a trial and brought a bottle home. I am happy to say that after the use of the first bottle I felt so much improved I decided to take another and after that a third bottle. I have good reasons to be pleased, for I am to-day a well woman, work is easy and the world looks bright. I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

STOCK MARKET WAS DULL AND PRICES REACTIONARY

Closing of Steel Mills, Reported Damage to Spring Wheat and the Labor Situation Were Factors in the Decline.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market was dull and reactionary, and at times displayed a positively weak tone. Wall street apparently felt that the recovery on Thursday had been too rapid. This sentiment seemed to prevail in London also, for quotations from that market showed a slight decline for consols and American securities and no demand for the latter. A little later in the day there was a further weakening in consols, which closed at a net loss for the day of 5-16, indicating that the foreign situation was not altogether satisfactory. On the New York exchange there was some irregularity during the opening hour. Then it became apparent that the public was not following the advance, and professional traders took the bear side with more confidence. From that time to the close the tendency of the market was downward.

United States Steel common sold off to 11½ and the preferred to 93¾ during the morning, rallied slightly, and then declined under the previous low prices, closing near the lowest. The weakness was based upon the announcement that the Lorain mills of the company had shut down for an indefinite period. No details accompanied the announcement, but it was looked upon as confirmatory of the allegations that the principal improvement thus far in the iron trade had occurred in Wall street. This is not entirely correct. There has been a steady improvement in sentiment throughout almost the entire month, and this is being followed by actual improvement in orders, but not to the extent that Wall street bulls would have the public believe. The minor iron and steel stocks were dull and fractionally lower.

The announcement of the regular 2 per cent semi-annual dividends on Union Pacific common and preferred was followed by some selling of the former, ostensibly on the theory of disappointment that the rate had not been increased. No one seriously believed that the dividend on the common stock would be increased at this time, when revenues of underlying companies are tied up pending a settlement of the Northern Securities case. The stock did not display any of the rallying power so noticeable on Thursday and sold off to 95¾, closing at 95¾. Southern Pacific held relatively better, but finally closed at a net decline of ¾.

The granger stocks, under the lead of Atchison and St. Paul, were affected by crop damage reports, and by the strength in wheat, which sold up to the highest price of the season. St. Paul made a strong rally, but did not hold the gain. That loss, however, was insignificant. Atchison closed nearly a point lower. Another factor in the heaviness of western stocks was the strike situation, which is assuming an ugly phase.

The coals respond most readily to industrial conditions were rather heavy during most of the day. Pennsylvania opened at 120¾, rallied to 120¾, but sold off to 119¾ and closed at a net decline of ½ per cent for the day. Baltimore & Ohio closed ¾ lower and Reading ¾ lower, the latter being affected by the curtailment of anthracite production.

In strong contrast to the general market was the course of Metropolitan Street Railway, which advanced to 118⅜, the highest reached on this movement. Interborough closed strong at 136 and other issues of the group, with the exception of Brooklyn Rapid Transit, scored advances and closed fractionally higher. The street feels more confident than ever that a deal is pending for a consolidation of the various traction interests.

Call loan rates remained easy at 1 per cent, and sterling exchange was lower, still further removing the probability of gold exports. The preliminary estimates foreshadow another increase in the cash reserve of the banks, and there have been no developments to indicate any important change in the loan item. It is therefore probable that today's bank statement will show an addition to surplus reserves.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange the tendency was also downward during the greater portion of the day. Crucible Steel common and preferred were nominally unchanged, but United States Steel preferred closed at a net loss of 1 per cent. Pittsburgh Coal common declined ⅛ point to 13⅛ and closed offered at 14. The preferred was a fraction lower at 56 and closed offered at that price. Manufacturers Light and Heat was a little firmer at 42, but the other natural gas stocks remained dull and unchanged. Pittsburgh Plate Glass was 3 per cent lower at 115. Westinghouse Electric opened lower at 78½, rallied to 78¾ and closed at 78⅝. National Fire Proofing preferred closed higher at 28½. Bank and trust stocks were dull, and the bond list unchanged. There was a better demand for pig iron warrants, and the Bessemer grade advanced to $12.90 bid.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

On several occasions recently items have appeared in eastern papers in reference to the affairs of Crucible Steel. No information is obtainable here from official sources regarding any proposed changes, although there have been rumors that some sort of proposition might be submitted to the annual meeting of stockholders in October. The Wall Street Journal yesterday contained the following: "Corroborative evidence of pending reorganization of the Crucible Steel Company comes from Pittsburgh. It is said that the matter has been discussed by the directors and is rounding into shape. It has been understood ever since the Crucible company sold the Clairton Steel plant to the United States Steel Company that a practical financial embargo on Crucible would follow, so that it could take advantage of the changes. It is believed that the official plan provides for refunding the outstanding short term bonds, converting them into long term bonds. Last month Crucible issued $5,000,000 6 per cent bonds for terms of three and five years. The new bonds to be issued will cover the indebtedness of the company. Up to that time the Clairton company the funded debt of Crucible will stand:

St. Clair furn. 1st mortgage guarantee 5 per cent.....$3,000,000
St. Clair Steel first mortgage int. guarantee 5 per cent..... 2,250,000
Clairton Stl. Co. 1st mtge. 5 per cent.. 5,000,000

Total $10,250,000

"The Steel corporation assumes the guarantee for the interest and principal of the Clairton bonds, so that the present debt of Crucible is lessened that much."

On the local board yesterday 100 shares Pressed Steel Car preferred changed hands at 76, an advance of ⅝ over the last previous sale. In New York the stock sold at 76 and 76½.

There was a little more doing in Westinghouse Electric, which sold within a range of 78½ and 78¾, closing at 78⅝ bid, 78¾ asked. It is expected that stockholders will receive a circular next week in reference to the proposed sale of the remaining $2,500,000 treasury stock.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 115, a decline of 2 per cent, and closed offered at 116.

On the exchange 1,000 tons Bessemer pig iron, September delivery, sold at $12.90, and that price was bid for more. A prominent member of the exchange remarked after the close of the market that there was a very encouraging increase in the number of inquiries from actual consumers of iron, and that all the indications pointed to a more active market.

A Wall street dispatch credited a "Pittsburgh director" of United States Steel with buying 25,000 shares common and preferred this week. The decline in the market yesterday seemed to chill the buying demand and the sales on the local exchange reached only 300 shares.

Federal National bank was offered at 188, a slight decline. Bank of Pittsburgh made a new high mark by advancing to 156 bid.

Pittsburgh Coal dividend scrip sold at 102, the recent high price.

The Anchor Savings bank has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 4 per cent, payable forthwith.

The directors of the Central Oil Company have passed the August dividend of 25 cents a share.

The gross earnings of Hocking Valley for June decreased $171,879, and the net decreased $114,421.

Union Pacific directors have declared the regular semi-annual dividends of 2 per cent on the common and preferred stocks of the company, payable October 1 to stock of record August 31.

The story of so-called "inside" buying of Rock Island and its allied stocks may be dismissed unceremoniously. Both the Moores are away, Leeds is at Newport, and Reid in Europe, while President Yoakum of Frisco is in the west. This interest has been remarkably frank with the street in the past two years, and there is no reason to doubt them when they say they are letting the stocks take care of themselves at present.

The foreign demand for Pennsylvania, which practically ceased a couple of years ago, has again assumed some proportions, and about 12,000 shares of stock have been shipped to England in the last couple of weeks. Notwithstanding the Anglo-Russian difficulty this movement is still on, although its volume has been somewhat reduced in the past few days. As the actual certificates are being sent abroad it looks as if sentiment in England is again turning in favor of investment in the best class of American stocks.

The feature in the Chicago wheat market was the turning down of a large amount of wheat tendered for inspection by the private elevators. This forced the shorts to buy back their wheat in the pit, and as there was little offered the market shot up like a skyrocket for the July option. This strength in July helped to maintain the price in September. Later, however, the market turned firm and advanced rapidly on reports from the northwest, which claim damage by rust and smut is proving more serious than early reports indicated, and that rains were predicted for sections which were badly in need of dry weather.

Mr. Balfour censured the jingo press of Europe for printing sensational news, such as would likely create international war fever and the press comment yesterday was quite favorable in tone. The outstanding feature of this London failed to enthuse, and instead of rushing to purchase our securities, the latter sold off at that center and closed weak, with consols 5-16 lower. It is evident that the probable curtailment of the Russian war loan, on account of the financial embarrassment of the government, is largely the cause of the cessation of the manipulative work in the market.

Sub-treasury operations have yielded less to the banks than for some time past and a payment yesterday of a Central Pacific note to the government for nearly $3,000,000 resulted in a credit balance for the sub-treasury at the clearing house of over $1,700,000. The better showing for the government revenues, which reduces the banks' immediate gains, reduces any probability of the withdrawal of government deposits from the banks to replenish the government's working balance. Currency has continued to arrive in large volume from the interior and a gain in cash of upward of $5,000,000 is foreshadowed by the estimates.

PURCHASED THREE FINE RESIDENCES

John C. Logan Invests $48,000 in Twenty-Second Ward Realty.

SITE FOR GARAGE IS BOUGHT

Through the office of Coyle Brothers William H. Whitfield has sold to John C. Logan three fine houses on the east side of Dennison avenue, between Irwin and Northumberland avenues, Twenty-second ward, for $48,000, or $16,000 each. Two of the houses are brick and the third a stone dwelling. All stand on lots 50x150 feet. The residences contain 12 rooms and two bath rooms, and are provided with a hardwood finish throughout and all the modern conveniences. They have just been completed and have never been occupied. The new buyer takes them for an investment, and Coyle Brothers will look after the renting of the houses.

Coyle Brothers have also closed the sale of the site bought by the Auto Traffic Company for its garage and repair shop in the Thirteenth ward. The property belonged to Robert J. Coyle, Jr., and was bought for $10,600. It consists of an irregular shaped lot 196x95x105x190 feet, facing on the west side of Craig street, about 1,000 feet north of Center avenue, and extending back to Grant boulevard. On the lot the Auto Traffic Company will erect a handsome building from plans drawn by Architect H. D. Gilchrist.

The Eleventh ward of Allegheny is due for a boom in real estate, owing to the extensive improvements being made there. One of these is the paving of Ivis avenue from California avenue to Riverview park, three squares. The street was opened and graded some time ago, but the paving has been deferred, thus retarding the growth of the neighborhood. It will now be a 60-foot street, with 10-foot sidewalks and will be the main entrance to the park. Frontage on the avenue is already quoted at $125 a foot and a number of first-class houses are to be erected. The Ivis avenue bridge, with the new Shady avenue bridge, will open a large amount of choice frontage for building sites. The bridge spans McClure avenue and is near Deacon st. Shady avenue runs from the Brighton road. Tracks are now laid up Superior street for a street car line, and it is proposed to extend this line soon through the new section and to Bellevue. Among the larger plots of acreage that will be benefited are the Phillips, Geyer, Lea, Schwerd and Falk properties, and the holdings of D. B. Oliver and G. D. Simen. The property includes some of the finest residence sites in Allegheny, where the views are excellent and the climate the city in serious drawback to home seekers.

Pays to Please Buyers.

That it pays to build houses to suit prospective buyers is shown in the success of the way which John H. Galey is meeting in his house-building venture at Economy. A few weeks ago Mr. Galey started 10 houses in Ohio View avenue, near Sixteenth street, in the French Point allotment. These houses are two-room brick, with bath, and built on lots 28x100 feet. Although not more than half completed, four of them have been practically sold and at least 25 applications have been received from persons desiring to buy. Mr. Galey is now preparing to build 10 more similar houses in Economy, most of which will be planned according to the wishes of parties who wish to purchase.

Over 50 house-building projects are now under way in Economy. Recently an eastern firm arranged for the erection of 20 more houses in Ambridge, making a total of about 60 under their belt. In addition to the business places in Merchant street. The American Bridge Company has now on its pay roll at Ambridge about 3,000 men, many of whom are trading to secure homes of their own within walking distance of the works. A feature of the big plant now building is the open bridge which extends from the works across the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad tracks to the office building of the company. This bridge makes a support for one of the enormous traveling cranes, and on it a person may walk nearly the entire length of the works. Stairs lead down from it on either side of the railroad tracks and one of the middle spans is so arranged that it can be taken out easily, thus providing a splendid safety feature in case of strike or lockout.

The Eldora allotment opposite Monessen is proving one of the most successful lot ventures of the year. Out of 150 lots in that part of the allotment which Henry E. Holman is handling, nearly half have been sold since the sale was opened last fall. The property is on the new Charleroi street car line, two miles from Charleroi and Monongahela City, and in the center of a district that claims 30,000 population.

SUGAR IS ADVANCED; FLOUR TRADE GOOD

Potatoes Are Going Higher. Bananas Are Lower—Hay Is Slow.

Local jobbers have advanced quotations on sugar, effective today. The change, which amounts to only 5 points, has been expected. The market would justify an advance of 10 points and probably more. Flour holds very firm and general trade is reported better all along the line. There was no change yesterday in canned goods, cereals or dried fruits. There is good demand for fruit butters.

The potato market is getting firmer every day. Sales on track were reported as high as $2 25, but quotations have not been changed over those of yesterday. Raspberries are holding on better than expected, and those on hand are commanding full prices. Bananas are here in good supply and are much easier than one week ago. Beans and cucumbers are quoted much lower. The potato arrivals yesterday were very scant and the total number of cars on hand is about 20. About 30 cars of bananas came in yesterday. Apples and pears are having a ready market. Peaches have stiffened up perceptibly. The supply has not been so large as expected and prices are held up well. Arrivals yesterday were only four cars. Good celery is wanted badly. Maryland tomatoes are now quoted in place of Tennessees, which are exhausted for this season. Cantaloupes and melons showed firm.

There is exceptionally good call for hens, and they would sell much higher than quoted if the right kind could be secured. The poultry feed continues somewhat draggy, buying being of a hand-to-mouth nature, as has been the case for several weeks. Sales of No. 1 timothy were reported yesterday at $13 and $12. The market on hay is slow and the quotations on new are about $2 lower than one year ago. There is little doing in oats, and the corn situation is still looking well.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, July 29.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: The wool market is strong and active. A good deal of new business has been closed this week, and there is a heavy inward and outward movement of supplies. Local sales are said far ahead and dealers would welcome a quiet spell in order that they might catch up with deliveries. Prices are firm on all grades and slightly higher in instances. Ohio one-quarter blood sold at 29c, and Montana original clips, fine and fine mixed medium on the scoured basis of 60 cents. Much of the territory wool recently secured in the west was on a 60-cent basis at Boston, September 1 goods mean, but is encouraging; foreign advices bullish. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 31, 1903, are 122,823,050 pounds, against 129,888,804 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 145,908,144 pounds, against 150,385,767 pounds for the same period last year.

WHEAT MAKES RISE ON DAMAGE REPORTS

Bullish Sentiment Favored by Scared Shorts Who Cover on July.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 29.—Damage reports from the spring wheat country were the most influential factor in causing a strong wheat market here today. At the close September wheat was up 1½@1¾c. Corn and oats each gained ¾ cent and provisions 7½ to 15 cents. Sentiment in the wheat pit was decidedly bullish at the start as a result of an attempt on the part of several shorts to cover July sales. The cause of the urgent demand was a report that a large quantity of wheat in private elevators, which shorts had expected to deliver on July contracts, had been rejected by the inspection department. This necessitated bidding for the grain in the pit. There was little for sale, and in consequence the price was forced over 1½c above yesterday's closing quotation. The action of the July option gave support to the distant deliveries. September opening with a gain of ¼ to ½c at 89⅝@89¾c. Toward the end of the first hour the market had eased off somewhat on reports that talked of 30,000,000 bushels being cleaned up from the northwest. Cash sales were 80¼c. The reaction, however, was short lived. Alarm over the European political situation, allayed early in the day by a rise in English consols, was stirred up afresh by a subsequent sharp decline in those securities. About the same time damage reports from the southwest and northwest began coming in, causing additional anxiety among shorts. A report that northwestern country mills can take all new wheat offered from now on caused renewed bulling. Unofficial forecast of thunderstorms increased the bullish tone, as did also numerous advices from Kansas City claiming a decrease in receipts at that point. On the bulge that followed September advanced to 90¾c, but part of the gain was again lost on realizing. The market, however, closed strong, with September at 90⅜@90¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 73,500 bushels. Exports for the week, according to Bradstreet's, were 1,613,000 bushels, compared with 3,700,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 229 cars, against 201 cars last week and 187 cars a year ago.

Strength of wheat was the main factor affecting the corn market, although there was some purchasing for long account late in the session on rumors of a possible European war. Liberal receipts and an increase in the primary movement, together with favorable weather conditions, were bear factors. The market closed near the high point of the day. September opened unchanged to ⅛c higher, at 49⅜@49½c, sold between 49¼c and 49⅝@49¾c, and closed at 49⅝c. Local receipts were 180 cars, with 21 of contract grade.

The feature in trading was an advance of 1½ cents in the price of the July option. The sharp rise occurred during the first few minutes of trading and was caused by an almost absolute dearth of offerings in the face of an urgent demand from shorts. The market subsequently was quiet and firm. September opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 33c to 34@34¼c, sold between 32¾c and 33@33¾c, and closed at 33¼@33⅝c. Local receipts were 96 cars.

Provisions took on fair strength owing to moderate purchases by brokers for the account of prominent packers. Trading, however, was still very quiet. At the close September pork and ribs were each up 12½@15c at $13 07½ and $7 70, respectively. Lard was up 7½c at $7 05.

Estimated receipts for the week—Wheat, 100 cars; corn, 185 cars; oats, 107 cars, hogs, 9,000 head.

Record Ore and Coal Traffic Between Pittsburgh and Lakes

The month of July will make new records on all the Pittsburgh-Lake Erie lines in the lake and rail traffic. Shipments of coal north and of ore south have risen this month to a point never before attained, even in the summers of greatest prosperity.

It is stated by representatives of freight traffic and transportation departments that the increase of the ore shipments from lake ports to Pittsburgh will be somewhat in excess of 5 per cent above that of the highest previous month. The shipments of coal to the lakes is even larger, the increase being practically 10 per cent.

One instance of the tremendous coal business which is being done by the bituminous companies can be found in the fact that the Pittsburgh Coal Company has averaged for some time past 1,750 30-ton carloads shipped a day. This one company, sending 52,500 tons a working day, alone makes up a considerable traffic, but in addition there are other concerns doing a lake and rail coal business from this district to the northwest.

It was stated in this department earlier in the week that the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, the Carnegie Steel Company's lake line from Pittsburgh, will break its ore records this month. It will be seen that this company is not alone in the volume of traffic of that class.

Other lines, the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, are sharing in the big shipments. The traffic reports show that in some other classes of business there is an increase also, but a less notable one. The business being done, however, is such that there is little opportunity for further during the next few days.

It is the statement of one traffic official that the traffic of the railroads in Pittsburgh this year is larger than that done in any year in their history excepting only 1902 and 1903. The 1900 and 1901 roads had very prosperous years, but despite all the talk of adversity, the records of the present year promise to eclipse those years.

REPORT NEW TO RAMSEY.

Plan to Merge Wabash and Missouri Pacific Railroads Not Believed.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash, said yesterday that he had no knowledge of the reported intention of the Gould interests to merge the Wabash and the Missouri Pacific railroads into one system. It was further reported that Mr. Ramsey would be the chief executive of the combined system.

Mr. Ramsey spent the day in conference with the officials of the engineering, operating and legal departments of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal. The board of directors met in the afternoon and agreed upon a number of matters. This morning the president will make a trip over the new line to inspect carefully the work. He leaves today for St. Louis.

Engineers Will Picnic Today.

Lakemont park, near Altoona, will be the scene today of the annual gathering of the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in Western and Central Pennsylvania. No less than 12,000 people are expected on the ground during the day, and elaborate arrangements have been made by the committees for the entertainment of the crowd. Grand Chief Engineer W. S. Stone and Hon. Delos Everett, third grand engineer, of Cleveland, will be among the distinguished officials of the organization who are to make addresses. The Pennsylvania railroad is making special preparations to handle the excursionists promptly. About 20 special trains will be needed to carry the party.

Wabash Wins Suit for Terminal Site.

It was announced yesterday from St. Louis that the court had rendered a decision in favor of the Wabash in the hard-fought case between that railroad and the Rock Island over the ownership of a large plot of ground at Third and Washington streets. The Wabash began to make purchase in it eighteen months ago. The trustees of President Ramsey believing that it would offer an excellent site for freight terminals. The property was secured by an agent who did not let it be known that the Wabash was the real purchaser. Later the Rock Island wished the land and entered condemnation proceedings. The decision of the court gives the Wabash the property. It is admittedly one of the best locations in the city for the purpose.

Railroad Notes.

Col. Samuel Harden Church, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, left last evening to spend his vacation in the Muskoka lake region.

The Lake Shore is making efforts to break records for fast running. An engine of a new design and weight and the track selected is between Toledo and Buffalo Creek, Ind.

During the quarter ended March 31 79 passengers and 840 employes of railroads were killed and injured. Of the employes hurt, 4 lives were killed as compared with the same quarter of 1903.

This is "Railroad Day" at the St. Louis world's fair, and from this section as well as other parts of the country railroad men are gathered by the thousands. About $10,000 is being spent by the fair management in special honor of the railroad men.

MILLIONS BEHIND BAD MONEY MEN

Three Arrested at Allentown Say That They Have Some Wealthy Backers.

A TRAIL OF HALF DOLLARS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 29.

Three counterfeiters, who claim to be backed by men worth millions, and who have worked a large portion of this state and of New Jersey, and who had in their possession when captured nearly 700 bogus coins, were brought here and lodged in Moyamensing prison this evening by Deputy United States Marshal Peter Helms. They were captured in Allentown after a long chase, which led through New Jersey and ended at the city park in Allentown.

The fact that counterfeit half dollars were being circulated in large quantities came to the knowledge of Matthew Griffin, secret service agent of this city, some weeks ago. He learned that the headquarters of the gang was at Paterson, N. J., but had to turn the pursuit of the counterfeiters over to others, as he was needed in the prosecution of a case in Wilmington.

The trail was taken up at Paterson by William J. Flinn, John J. Henry and Irving S. Sauter, secret service men attached to the New York office. The route the counterfeiters traveled was strewn with the counterfeit coins, but they still had $335 of the spurious money in their possession when they were taken into custody.

At Allentown, when the party was at last overtaken and its members identified, there were four men in it. Deputy Marshal Helms was sent for. He arrived in Allentown on the evening of July 22. The men were spending the evening at city park. The deputy marshall, John Henry of the secret service and Chief of Police Eastman followed them there and arrested three. One of the party escaped. The other three were lodged in the Allentown jail to await an examination. On the person of one of them, Nicolo Cerrino, was found a bag containing $335 in bogus half dollars. The other two, who gave their names as Oscar Delucci and Andrea Tilly, were the men who put the coin in circulation. They had only genuine coin in their pockets, supposed to have been received in change when the bogus coins were passed.

The secret service men and the deputy marshal had no trouble in finding victims. There was hardly a small store on the prisoners' route which had not been victimized. One of the men would enter a store and make a small purchase, giving a bogus half dollar and receiving the change, generally 45 cents in good money.

Today the men were arraigned in Allentown before United States Commissioner Leidy and were held in $2,000 bail each for trial. The prisoners, who seemed to have plenty of money and influential friends, were defended by Senator Dewalt and his partner. There was no lack of evidence, as many of the victims were present to identify them.

A desperate effort was made to secure bail, but none of the men offered had any real estate, and the prisoners were taken over to the marshal to bring to this city. The men stated that they had plenty of backing in Paterson and that one of their backers was worth more than $1,000,000.

The men are said to be members of a large gang engaged in the same business who have been operating for months in this part of the country. The headquarters of the gang was in Paterson, and the head of it, who manufactured the coin, was captured there a few days ago and taken to New York and will have his trial there.

WAR RESPONSIBLE FOR BAD WEATHER

Such Is the Claim Made to the President by a Berlin Man.

PAST WARS AS EXAMPLES

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.

"Steam power and the extensive utilization of electricity are robbing us more and more of the ideal world, and now, Mr. President, it is undeniably the great war between Japan and Russia which is ruining our weather. Will you not use your influence in bringing the war to a close and appeasing the wrath of the weather god?"

This is the remarkable appeal which reached President Roosevelt upon his return from Oyster Bay last night. It came from George Friederich Hertzog of No. 6 Hochste street, Berlin.

After showing that last winter was unusually cold and severe as a result of the war in the far east, Mr. Hertzog also attributed the cold, late summer to the trouble between Japan and Russia. He says he prophesied all the bad weather which has attended the international struggle, and is confident that great calamity and pestilence are in store for the whole world if it permits fighting to continue.

In the time of the 30-year war and the Napoleonic campaigns, Mr. Hertzog says, cold winters and terrible blizzards swept Europe, while the summers were always bad and crop failures and pestilence did not cease until the cannon were silenced. The Crimean war, he says, was accompanied by storms and snows and history is repeating itself in the storms which have recently swept Southern Austria and Spain this summer.

HAVERLEY'S MEN OPEN THEATRICAL SEASON

Happy Inaugural Takes Place at the Bijou Theater Tonight.

Pittsburgh's theatrical season of 1904-5 will have its opening at the Bijou theater this evening. The inaugural performance will be given by the great Haverly minstrel aggregation, which will continue at the Bijou all of next week, giving matinees on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

This massive amusement organization this year numbers half a hundred and is composed of foremost favorites from the front ranks of the new school of minstrelsy, headed by Billy Van, otherwise known by the peculiar but most appropriate title "The Assassin of Sorrow." Mr. Van always has a new budget of song and jest to offer, and is ably seconded by "Bean Brummell" Jimmy Wall, a finished entertainer, otherwise known as the new Billy Emerson. Besides these two particular stars, there are other comedians of note, while the vocal and vaudeville departments are said to be the most remarkable ever presented by this or any other attraction of its class. Manager Nankeville's institution is the personification of all that is good, novel and entertaining according to latter-day ideas.

Among the surprises of the program may be mentioned the first part innovation, "The Evolution of the Watermelon," which is said to be the most stupendous scenic and electrical production ever attempted in minstrelsy, being the "limit" in modern stagecraft and the highest possible result of the electrical expert's best efforts. Another notable offering is the mammoth song and dance sketch "Moonlight in Dixie," introducing 20 premier dancers.

ATTACHES ADDICK'S STOCK.

The Creditors Won't Pay for Groceries and Horseshoeing Furnished at Newport.

NEWYORT, R. I., July 29.—(Special.)—The stock in the fashionable Newport Casino of J. Edward Addicks, who is prominent in the politics of Delaware, has been attached in two actions brought in the district court here by Frederick F. Garrettson and Luke Croughan. Mr. Garrettson's bill is for groceries and amounts to $280 and Mr. Croughan's is for horseshoeing and is $102. The writs of attachment were served on Supt. Joseph Barrett of the Casino, and are returnable next Tuesday.

The bills to recover which the suits are brought are alleged to have been contracted here in 1902, when Mr. Addicks and family spent the summer here. The same actions were brought a year ago and the yacht Iderim, which it was thought Mr. Addicks owned, was attached, but Mr. Addicks showed that the yacht was registered in the name of Mrs. Addicks and consequently the attachment had to be vacated. Since then the lawyers have been looking about for something of Mr. Addicks' that they could attach and found that he owned two shares of the stock of the Casino, the par value of which is $500.

REGARDS JAPAN AS DELIVERER

Former British M. P. Says Her Triumph Would Liberate Russia's People.

WOULD OVERTURN CASTE RULE

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—A. D. Provaud, formerly member of parliament for the Black Friars division of Glasgow, Scotland, has been paying an extended visit here on business connected with mercantile and mining interests. In discussing the Japo-Russian war at the Waldorf-Astoria today Mr. Provaud declared it will be a great misfortune to the civilized world if Japan does not defeat Russia.

"In the end," said he, "Russia herself is likely to benefit more by defeat than by victory. The triumph of Russian arms in the present contest would mean the triumph of the imperialist and aggressive party in Russia. The unfortunate peasantry would be ground down more than at present, in order to provide money for fresh military adventures.

"On the other hand, if Russia experiences a complete and overwhelming defeat, it may mean the triumph of liberal ideas and the overthrow of the cruel system of tyranny and oppression under which the nation now suffers.

"I look upon Japan as the deliverer of the Russian people. The extension of the Russian empire as at present constituted is not good for the world.

"Individual Russians, as I know them, are delightful persons, curiously like ourselves and Britons in many ways, but the Russian system of government is a hundred years behind the age. When Russia has a free press, free speech and universal education, it will soon develop into a great nation, and I, for one, would like to see its extension of influence over Asia.

"But it will never get these things until some power from the outside shatters the prestige of the ruling caste and so emboldens the people to stand up for their rights."

SUSPECTED OF MURDER HERE AND IN ITALY

Domenico Zerganaro Arrested by Officer Angello in Schenley Park.

Suspected of having killed a man in Italy and another in Punxsutawney, Damenico Gerganaro, an Italian, was arrested in Schenley park yesterday afternoon by Special Officer Peter Angello and locked up in the Central police station. The police have been informed the Italian killed a man at Malta St. Lucia, in the province of Catangaro, Italy, and a Hungarian miner in Jefferson county.

Officer Angello was informed that Gergandaro was in the city. After a search of several days he learned he was working on the grade at the Schenley park entrance, off Forbes street. He found the man there yesterday and the prisoner refused to give the officer any information regarding himself.

It is said that Gergandaro killed a miner at Punxsutawney in November or December of last year, and fled to Italy. The police have been informed he killed an Italian there and was compelled to take flight to this country again. In order to leave the country undetected, it is said, he came to the United States by the way of France and Canada. Officer Angello said this cost him over $400. He settled in Pittsburgh under the name of Damenico Monesto. He is about 30 years old, and from his actions the police believe he is the man wanted for the crimes.

Several men were killed in Jefferson county during November and December of last year and the authorities there have no idea which killing the Italian is charged with.

MILLIONAIRES SUED BY A YANKEE FARMER

Edmund C. Converse Is Made Defendant in Action for $20,000.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENWICH, CONN., July 29.—Edmund C. Converse of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation with William J. Smith, one of the millionaire natives of Greenwich, have been sued jointly by Albert W. Close, a Connecticut Yankee farmer residing at West Stanwich, in the town of Greenwich, and 150 acres of land owned by them has been attached for $20,000.

The case is returnable to the court of common pleas in Bridgeport in September. Close claims that the millionaires have damaged him greatly by damming a stream on their property to make a reservoir, which they have agreed to sell to the Greenwich Water Company. He has 15 acres which have been made untillable and in one spot the water is said to stand nine feet deep.

Mr. Converse is spending several millions of dollars in laying out a mammoth estate here, and Mr. Smith was his agent in buying up dozens of good-sized farms to enable him to do so.

A final meeting to decide upon the permanency of the new organization of window glass manufacturers has been called for August 17 at Cleveland. It will then be determined whether the coming fire will be managed without any agreements as to prices, methods of selling, wages or time of operation to which the manufacturers agree.

A number of independent manufacturers are trying to secure scales from President Paul St. Peter of L. A. 300 to allow them to start September 1. The meeting at Niagara Falls held by the manufacturers recently set October 1 as the time of starting.

SMALL DOG BROKE UP MEETING OF COUNCIL

Allegheny Select Session Comes to an Abrupt End When a Poodle Rushes In.

A small dog wandered into Allegheny select council chamber last night and caused the adjournment of an uninteresting session. The canine was not much bigger than a sewer rat and his presence was not noticed until Chairman pro tem. John T. Beator hammered sharply with his gavel to startle several drowsy members from their reveries. The rap of the gavel was followed by the yap-yap of the tiny animal, as it rushed toward the city clerk's desk from the rear of the chamber.

From comfortable positions, with their feet perched on their desks, a few of the slumbering solons jumped up to get a look at the cause of the unusual interruption. Charles P. Kirschber of the Fifth ward captured the dog, and placing it in his desk, moved that the meeting adjourn. The motion carried. Out in the halls a man from the Second ward was found searching for the bench poodle.

The meeting was called to act upon an ordinance to change the grade of McClure avenue in the Ninth and Eleventh wards. The thoroughfare has been almost impassible for months because of the work being done in that vicinity by the Ft. Wayne railroad. The measure passed without a dissenting vote. The ordinance fixing the manner of construction of the sidewalks in McClure avenue was amended so that the sidewalks shall remain at their present level, and was ordered printed for common council. All the other measures acted upon were relative to the grading or paving of short streets and all were passed finally.

Hair Falling?

Don't tell your friends of it. They would think it so strange. You see, they know Ayer's Hair Vigor checks falling of the hair, restores color to gray hair, and makes the hair grow. Then why don't you use it?

SEVEN MEN INDICTED FOR SLOCUM TRAGEDY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 29.—Capt. Van Schaick, Federal Steamboat Inspector Fleming and former Inspector Lundberg were today indicted by the federal grand jury in connection with the disaster to the General Slocum. Van Schaick was the commander of the Slocum.

United States District Attorney Burpett said that indictments also were reported against President Barnaby, Secretary Atkinson and Treasurer Dexter of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company and Capt. John Pease, the commodore of the company's fleet. Gen. Burnett said that when the indicted men are arraigned Monday he will insist on bail being fixed at $25,000 in each case.

The equipment of the steamer Grand Republic, sister ship to the General Slocum, was 325 life preservers short when she was inspected early this year, according to the testimony of Peter C. Petrie, an assistant hull inspector, at today's session of the federal commission's investigation of the Slocum disaster. The inspector said that when he reported the matter to Capt. Pease the latter replied: "Oh, I've got lots of them between decks."

"I went to a cabin in the forward part of the boat, between decks," testified the inspector, "and found between 1,200 and 1,500 life preservers. I made the crew hand them to me one by one, and I looked every one over. Out of the whole lot I found only 130 that I passed."

Petrie said he did not order the condemned preservers destroyed, as he had no authority to do so, but he suggested to the captain that it would be a good plan to get them out of the way. When he saw Capt. Pease a month later, however, the captain told him he still had the condemned life belts on board his steamer.

BANDIT CAUGHT BY A BRAKEMAN

PRISONER WAS A SOLDIER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., July 29.—The reign of terror in Mount Vernon, Bronxville and surrounding towns produced by a desperate bandit who is believed to have robbed a half dozen large country residences and who shot Detective Michael Reilly of the Mt. Vernon police force, ended at noon today, when the man was captured in a freight car on the Harlem railroad near the Tuckahoe station.

The desperado, who is known as the West Chester outlaw, attempted to draw his revolver on James Quinn, a brakeman, who penetrated his hiding place, but he was too weak from hunger and exhaustion and before he could bring the weapon into use, Quinn knocked it from his hand and gave him a kick in the stomach which took all the fight out of him. The train crew guarded the prostrate highwayman until a policeman arrived and took charge of him.

When arraigned before Sergt. Clarke at the Mount Vernon police station, he refused to give his name or address, saying that he had no name, no home, no friends. Said he:

"You can put my name down what you choose. I'm a poor outcast soldier, bred of good parentage, fought for my country and when I sought honest labor, was turned down continually. I was driven to this. You have captured me, I'm guilty, so what's the use of dragging the names of my innocent relatives into the case. I can stand up and take my medicine, and as far as my folks are concerned, I am supposed to be dead."

The prisoner's record on the Mount Vernon police blotter reads: "Name, unknown; home, unknown; occupation, soldier; read and write; nationality, American; charge, attempted murder.

BLOOD WILL TELL

A THEORY SUPPORTED BY FRESH CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE.

A Recent Instance Proves That a Woman's Happiness is Largely Dependent on the state of Her Blood.

When the blood is disordered every organ of the body is affected unfavorably and fails to discharge its functions properly. In the case of every woman nature has made special provision for a periodical purification of the blood and so long as this occurs her health and spirits unfailingly reveal the beneficial results. So slight a cause as a cold or a nervous shock may produce a suppression of this vital function and until it is restored she is doomed to misery. The remedy that has proved most prompt and effective in all disorders peculiar to the female sex, is that which brought such great relief to Miss Mattie Griggs of No. 807 Indiana street, Lawrence, Kansas, concerning which she speaks as follows:

"In the winter of 1902, from some unknown cause, there was a cessation of functions peculiar to my sex for a period of four months. I became very weak and could not get upstairs without help. I had nausea and pain and a constant headache. I was under the care of a physician for three months, but he did not succeed in curing me. Then a lady friend told me about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which she had used in her family and she induced me to try them. It was in May when I first began to use them and in June I had fully recovered my health, and have since remained perfectly well."

In all cases of delayed development of young girls; in anaemia or weakness due to impoverished blood and showing itself in pallor, lack of ambition, despondency and nervousness; also in the great constitutional disturbances attending the period known as the change of life, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable for women. They are sold by all druggists. A booklet of valuable information, relating to the care of a woman's health at all important periods, and entitled "Plain Talks to Women," will be sent free in a sealed envelope to anyone who chooses to write for it to the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
